

President to make TV address to Congress tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford goes before a joint session of Congress tonight with a nationally televised appeal for unity and a renewed spirit of cooperation between legislators and the White House.

There were abundant indications Ford would receive a warm welcome in his first appearance as President in the chambers where he served for 25 years as a Michigan congressman. His speech was scheduled to start at 6 p.m. PDT.

Ford got an early start on his long day, beating most of his staff to the White House at 7:30 a.m. He scheduled morning meetings with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to discuss the Cyprus situation and with other aides to work on shaping his new administration.

Administration officials said Ford's speech to Congress, which was expected to run about 30 minutes, would present a general overview of what he considers to be urgent domestic and foreign problems. Ford spent much of the weekend working on it.

Members of Congress, meanwhile, anticipated having much better relations with Ford than they did with the Nixon administration.

"We do have a better climate, no question about it, and we'll have more cooperation between President Ford and the Congress," Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said today.

"I think that the honeymoon will last up to and through the election, because we want to cooperate and work in partnership with President Ford and the administration," he said.

Appearing on NBC-TV's "Today Show," Mansfield said fighting inflation should be Ford's top priority. "Whatever he thinks is necessary to decrease inflation from the present rate of 12 percent, we would give consideration to," Mansfield said. "And we would eagerly await any initiative he would show."

Ford emerged from his suburban Alexandria, Va., home early today after fixing his own breakfast and taking a dip in his backyard swimming pool. He waved to a small crowd of bystanders and press.

When asked what he would do without a swimming pool at the White House he grinned and said: "I'm going to miss it."

That relaxed style was also apparent in the way Ford has run the White House since he took office Thursday. There are no restrictions on the movements of reporters and the staff, taking its cue from Ford, was much more open and friendly than former President Nixon's staff had been.

The main domestic problem facing the Ford administration is the economy.

His aides said the speech will not provide specific programs, although Ford may announce plans to start high-level discussions soon about the economy before coming up with any new programs. Internationally, they said, Ford will stress continuity of Nixon administration foreign policy and the need for stability and world peace.

The address itself will be "newsy" but will contain "no blockbusters," one aide said.

The most immediate problem, however, is selection of a vice president.

Weather

Hazy sunshine through Tuesday with late night and morning low overcast. Little cooler today and Tuesday. High today, 85; expected high Tuesday, 85; low tonight, 61; Sunday's high was, 88; this morning's low, 61.

Progress-Bulletin

POMONA, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, AUGUST 12, 1974

4 Sections

Price 10c Per Copy
Carrier Delivered $2.00 Per Month

Strike paralyzes bus systems in 4 counties

Hundreds of bus riders throughout the valley were stranded today as drivers and mechanics struck the massive Southern Rapid Transit District in a wage dispute.

The RTD buses serve not only local patrons within the valley—including Pomona intra-city routes—but also make runs through Pomona between Los Angeles and San Bernardino and Los Angeles and Riverside.

Involved in the strike are bus lines in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties.

Both RTD officials and union spokesmen warned the public that the strike may last the rest of the week and may run into next week.

Three thousand bus drivers and 728 mechanics are demanding raises of from $110 to $135 a week over the next two years, setting their hourly pay rates at from $7.76 to $9.30 an hour. The RTD has countered with an 8 to 8½ per cent offer, amounting to an average of $20 a week.

Rejection of that offer was reflected in Pomona and the rest of the valley by scores of commuters who were left stranded at bus stops. Hundreds of others who had kept abreast of developments found other means of transportation.

The Pomona downtown terminal point at Third Street and Garey Avenue, where all local buses converge, was deserted today.

The Highway Patrol reported very heavy traffic on the freeways going into Los Angeles.

Negotiations halted Sunday night after the United Transit Union, representing the drivers, and the Amalgamated Transit Union, representing the mechanics, rejected the final RTD offer of 8½ per cent.

The drivers held steadfastly to their demand of a 24 per cent immediate raise, upping their pay from $5.32 to $6.75 an hour between now and the end of the year, and another 15 per cent increase in 1975, to $7.76 an hour.

The mechanics, who now earn $6.37 an hour, want a 46 per cent raise over two years, to $9.30.

Earl R. Clark, general chairman of the United Transportation Union, said the drivers and mechanics were seeking "parity" with other bus properties across the country.

"The district's refusal to budge from the decidedly low offer would seem to indicate this could be a lengthy strike," he added.

An RTD spokesman said this morning that the total demands of the two unions would cost the RTD, and through it the general public, an estimated $76 million for the first year, and an additional $90 million the second year.

He said a fact-finding board appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan had suggested pay raises of from 7 to 7½ per cent, which the latest RTD offer already has surpassed.

Commuters ask court to halt bay area strike

OAKLAND (UPI) — Commuters are petitioning for resumption of bus service by the AC Transit District while labor contract bargaining goes on with the Amalgamated Transit Union.

For 43 days, the union has been striking the publicly-owned bus system which usually carries 200,000 passengers daily in the San Francisco East Bay Area and across the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

In the petition, made public Sunday, commuters urged a court injunction against the walkout while negotiations continue.

A group calling itself the AC Transit Get Em Rolling Committee is circulating the petition which holds that the strike is "an example of a small minority infringing on the rights of the majority."

Both in 1970 and 1973, strikes against the district were ended in court.

A Mali airplane crashes; 48 killed

OUGADOUGOU, Upper Volta (UPI) — Forty-eight persons were killed and 14 others seriously injured after an Air Mali Soviet-built Ilyushin 18 passenger plane ran out of fuel and crashed when the pilot attempted an emergency night landing on a highway, air officials said Monday.

Officials said the four-engined turbo-prop plane, carrying 62 persons, crashed late Sunday on the Ouagadougou-Niamey road, 25 miles from the airport.

Most passengers were thought to be Malians, they said. The flight, which originated in Bamako, Mali, was heading for Kano, Nigeria, and Mecca, Saudi Arabia.

Flight coordinators said the pilot radioed he was running out of fuel shortly before losing contact. The plane had experienced mechanical difficulties after take-off but was unable to make a scheduled stop at Niamey, Niger, because of bad weather.

Newsweek magazine said that Nixon's aides leaked the contents of the damaging June 23, 1972, tape to Rep. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., to force Nixon to realize "the dangers crowding in around him." In that tape Nixon discussed limiting the FBI's investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Both Newsweek and the Inquirer said that Wiggins, who had been one of Nixon's most articulate supporters, threatened to make the evidence public unless Nixon did first.

Greeks begin to release captives... page 3 times, swimming. Shown here on Sunday, he takes a few laps around his backyard pool.

SWIMMING PRESIDENT

Bus robbery: 10 minutes of terror

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A whispered conversation in the back of a Greyhound bus warned of impending terror minutes before three gunmen hijacked the vehicle, robbed its 34 passengers of $3,000 and tried to rape a 16-year-old girl.

"I was nearly asleep when I heard a voice whispering, 'I want to kill some of these,'" said Anders Franzen, 25, of Stockholm, Sweden, who boarded the bus in Los Angeles early Sunday.

"But another whispered, 'No. No killing!' I was frightened to death. I was afraid even to say anything to my two friends. I just waited and hoped nothing would happen."

Moments later, he said, the gunmen shouted they were holding up the bus as it sped along a Southern California freeway toward San Francisco.

Moving down the aisle, the black gunmen screamed racial epithets at passengers, threatening to kill them. One repeated over and over, "I hate you, I hate you ... give me your money," he said.

A man about 60 told a gunman he had no money, a passenger said.

"Do you want to die?" the robber shouted, jamming a pistol into the man's chest. He produced $500 in cash, the passenger said.

Another elderly man was hit in the temple with a pistol during the 10 minutes of terror during which two men demanded cash and jewelry at gunpoint while the third held a gun on the driver.

One gunman then forced a girl about 16 years old into the rest room in the bus.

"But about two minutes later another pounded on the lavatory door and shouted, 'We've got to get out of here!'" said Mats Grape, 24, also of Stockholm. Deputies said the girl was not raped.

The girl appeared calm until she broke down and wept after the hijackers got off the bus and sped away in a waiting car, he said.

"They were just hysterical and tense," said Grape. "They could have done anything. Two were only about 18 or 19 and they were the worst. The oldest one, about 22, was calmer."

"One pushed his gun into a man's chest and said, 'If I find any more money on you, I'll kill you, you white son of a bitch!'"

Nixon resignation reportedly forced by aides, GOP leaders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top White House aides and Republican congressional leaders last week subtly maneuvered President Nixon into a position where resignation became his only alternative, according to published reports.

The Philadelphia Inquirer reported Sunday that the turning point came a week ago today when Nixon's former chief of staff Alexander M. Haig and presidential lawyers James D. St. Clair and J. Fred Buzhardt threatened to quit unless Nixon released transcripts of the incriminating tapes he finally made public.

Until that time, Nixon had refused to step down, saying he would carry his fight against impeachment through to a Senate trial.

Haig has denied engineering the resignation, but Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott confirmed Sunday that Nixon was forced to release the three tapes by his aides.

In a broadcast interview (CBS' "Face the Nation"), he also said Haig asked that GOP leaders not pressure Nixon for his resignation out of fear that it might make him more determined to fight.

Newsweek magazine said that Nixon's aides leaked the contents of the damaging June 23, 1972, tape to Rep. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., to force Nixon to realize "the dangers crowding in around him." In that tape Nixon discussed limiting the FBI's investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Both Newsweek and the Inquirer said that Wiggins, who had been one of Nixon's most articulate supporters, threatened to make the evidence public unless Nixon did first.

Inside today

Page
Astrographs
L. M. Boyd
Bridge
Classified Ads
Comics
Crossword Puzzle
Doctor Comments
Editorial
Entertainment
Obituary
Rattles & Straws
Seek and Find Sports
Television
Women

STANDING ROOM ONLY

Thousands of Tokyo residents flocked to the Kōraku-en Amusement Park Sunday to escape the swelterering heat. Needless to say, there wasn't much room in the pool to cool off.

Vehicle's butane tank explodes on freeway

Valley family flees blazing mobile home

Three members of an Ontario family suffered minor injuries Sunday when their mobile home and boat were destroyed in a spectacular fire on the San Diego Freeway in San Clemente.

The fire, which erupted when the butane tank exploded, halted freeway traffic 25 minutes.

Highway patrolmen said the driver, George Edward Ingison, 35, 566 W. Berkeley Court, his wife, Caroline, 33, and his son, Corky, 12, were given emergency treatment at the San Clemente General Hospital.

Ingison was treated for minor burns, his wife for shock, and his son for a minor leg burn.

Two other Ingison children, Casey and Chris, were not hurt. Two other youngsters in the vehicle, Tammy Lessiak, 7, and Danny Lessiak, 3, also escaped injury.

Ingison told patrolmen he was alerted when he heard a loud popping sound under his 28-foot recreation vehicle. He said as he pulled off the freeway flames spread over the floor.

Within moments fire engulfed the vehicle and spread to the 15-foot boat Ingison was towing. The mobile home and the boat were reduced to a charred tangle of metal in minutes.

All freeway traffic was halted, and smoke which billowed into the sky was visible several miles.

PHOTO OF THE PHOTOGRAPHER

President Gerald Ford turns the tables, and the camera, on his new personal photographer, David Hume Kennerly, 27, a native of Roseburg, Ore.

is the winner of a Pulitzer Prize for feature photography in his coverage of the Vietnam War for United Press International. He also worked for Time.

Three arrested in altercation at local bar

Three men were arrested by police on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon early Sunday morning following an altercation in the parking lot of the Friends Bar, Pomona.

The three men arrested were identified by police as Robert Mason Pence, 21, of 1491 E. Mission Blvd., Bill Edward Morris, 25, of 682 S. San Antonio Ave., and Arthur Everette Morris, 30, of 11390 Pipeline Ave., all of Pomona. Each was held on $1,000 bail.

The arrests were made after police were called to the scene to investigate a disturbance in the bar's parking lot involving about seven persons.

David K. Beck of Rosemead, Paul V. Ramirez of Glendora, Darryl G. Blesch of Ontario, and Victor Sanchez of Azusa, all of whom were patrons at the bar, told police that the suspects had threatened them with knives after asking for money and being refused.

2 attacked and stabbed in encounter on street

Two men were attacked and stabbed as they walked along the 800 block of W. Monterey Avenue Pomona, early Sunday morning.

Police believe that gang rivalry may have provoked the attack.

The two victims were identified as Danny Vargas Cuellar, 43, of 270 N. Newman St., and Jose Salvador Caldera, 17, of 543 W. Fernleaf St., both of Pomona. Both suffered multiple stab wounds to the abdomen and chest areas.

They were taken to Pomona Valley Community Hospital, where both are reported in fair condition.

According to police, the victims said they were walking along the street when a car stopped near them. Ap-

White House expects increased leadership

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The executive branch of government had little if any direction from the White House during the last days of the Nixon administration, but officials expect President Ford to exert firmer command.

A UPI survey of high-level officials in each department indicates that they anticipate Ford will be more concerned with economic problems, more sympathetic to social programs and more friendly with labor than his predecessor.

The new administration's foreign, defense and agriculture policies were not expected to change much.

Many of the top bureaucrats said the lack of White House leadership kept them apart from the widening Watergate scandal, and some boasted that their departments ran smoothly with no direction at all from above.

Here is what the officials expect:

The economy: Ford will inspire new confidence, but no new policy. An assistant said he foresees no change in Treasury Secretary William Simon's outlook, which he characterized as controlling government spending and educating the American public that unpalatable measures may be required to low inflation.

Foreign affairs: No immediate changes. One State Department official predicted that will change with time.

"It is inevitable," he said. "If only because Ford is a different individual and less intense than President Nixon in regard to foreign policy as a whole."

Social programs: Alvin Arnett, the federal anti-poverty director ousted in the last weeks of the Nixon administration, pictured Ford as a man friendly to the community action programs spawned by the Office of Economic Opportunity, an agency Nixon tried to abolish. And Dr. Gloria E.A. Toot, assistant secretary of Housing and Urban Development, speculated he would be "progressive" on civil rights and housing. But, she added, "I think there is some uncertainty."

Labor: "Ford is different," a high ranking Labor Department source said, referring to Nixon's virtual lack of labor support. "I think he (Ford) is going to be looking for at least a brief romance with organized labor. He may look for a longer romance to deal with the economic problems the nation faces."

Defense: No new initiatives. Ford traditionally has favored strong armed forces and officials expect him to continue working for detente and balanced force reductions with the Soviet Union and nuclear arms limitations.

Agriculture: Aides to Secretary Earl Butz say the Agriculture Department will be the least affected by the Nixon-Ford changeover because most of its basic policies are fixed by law and because it was able to carry on without guidance from the Nixon White House. "But we'll be happy to see full time direction," an aide added.

Justice: Attorney General William B. Saxbe boasted that he was free to work independently under Nixon, apparently a lesson of Watergate. But sources say Saxbe wants to remain independent and will leave the Ford administration if there is any indication of a change in White House policy.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Youth critical after bike crash

An 11-year-old Claremont boy, who suffered a skull fracture when he toppled from his bicycle Sunday while riding down Mountain Avenue north of Silver Tree Street, today is in critical condition in the intensive care unit at Pomona Valley Community Hospital in Pomona.

He is Jeffrey Alan Coste of 792 Via Los Andes.

Witnesses told highway patrolmen young Coste lost control, fell off his bicycle and rolled.

4 persons hurt in 2-car crash

Four persons were injured Sunday about 7:20 p.m. when a car eastbound on Foothill Boulevard collided with a second vehicle near Euclid Avenue, Upland, police reported.

Immunization clinic slated

A back-to-school immunization clinic will be held at Pomona Health Center, 750 S. Park Ave., Wednesday from 5 to 8 p.m.

It is open to the public. It will offer immunizations for the prevention of diphtheria, tetanus, measles, polio, rubella and pertussis.

The immunizations are free. There is no age limit for children to be served.

crawled under a car owned by a neighbor, Lupe Garcia Salazar, 21, of 127 W. Belmont St., about 8:30 p.m. Salazar got into his car and backed up. When he heard a bump, he stopped his car and discovered the youth had been underneath the right rear tire of the vehicle.

The boy was taken to San Antonio Community Hospital for treatment of minor injuries and later released.

Police said it appeared that a car driven by Walters struck the rear end of the Allens' vehicle stopped in the intersection.

Youngster hit by backing car

A 19-month-old Ontario boy was slightly injured Sunday night when he was struck by a car backing out of a driveway at 127 W. Belmont Street, Ontario police reported.

Fernando Quiroc of 124 W. Belmont St., according to police, apparently discovered the man's body was discovered by two Azusa men about five miles north of Crystal Lake near Hawkins Lookout Road.

Preliminary hearing in murder case nears end

The preliminary hearing for Jose Salazar Sanchez, 23, of Ontario accused of murdering a 68-year-old retired auto mechanic July 9, is nearing an end in West Valley Municipal Court.

The hearing, to determine if police had obtained enough evidence to hold Sanchez over for trial on a murder charge in connection with the death of Howard C. Young of 12057 Turner Ave., Ontario, began last week before Judge Martin Hildreth.

Since Wednesday the Sanchez case has been trailing on the court calendar while Judge Hildreth read the transcript of a three-hour interview of Sanchez made by Ontario police. The original interview was taped entirely in Spanish and then transcribed by a court-appointed interpreter.

In the preliminary hearing, Deputy Dist. Atty. Donald Krout called, among other witnesses, Rosendo Gutierrez, Young's landlord, who testified that the defendant and the victim lived together for a short time until the victim ordered him to leave his home.

Sheriff's deputy Ted Dykes testified that just prior to his death Young was bound with at least four different kinds of bindings with a rope around his neck.

Donnie and Carol Nash testified they were friends of Young and they had picked him up the day before his death and he seemed to be acting normally.

Deputy Don Carpenter in the hearing testified that the defendant gave him the wrong name when he arrested him in an Ontario apartment a short time after Young was found dead. Ontario Police detectives told the court they had taken a three-hour tape of an interview with Sanchez after his arrest.

Sanchez's attorney, Charles Kayes, asked that the police transcribe the taped interview from Spanish into English and turn it over to the court.

Girl kidnaped, raped by 3 men at knife point

A 17-year-old Pomona girl was kidnaped and raped by three men early Sunday morning.

The men dragged her into their car at knife point and took her to Los Angeles, where the attacks occurred, police said.

Officers said that the girl told them that she was walking home from a friend's house about 2 a.m. Sunday when the men approached her near the intersection of Grand and Park avenues.

One of the men grabbed her arm and held a knife to her throat, forcing her into their vehicle. After driving around the valley for a while, the men drove to Los Angeles and forced the girl into an apartment house.

The girl was then subjected to repeated sexual attacks by the three men, all of whom were described as Caucasians about 32, 25 and 22.

Later, the men drove the girl back to Pomona, where she was released about 5 a.m.

Two men are arrested for assisting escapees

Two men were booked in the Chino jail this morning on suspicion of assisting a prisoner to escape after a 21-year-old Youth Training School ward managed to escape and another ward was recaptured in his bid for escape Sunday afternoon.

Police said YTS ward Freddie Garcia Mendoza of La Puente, serving a term in the youth institution for burglary and rape, and another 22-year-old YTS ward exchanged clothing with two visitors about 4 p.m. Sunday. Mendoza walked out of the facility and escaped, but the second ward, whose name was not released by police, was caught before he got out the security door.

Chino police said the two visitors, identified as Ignacio Mendoza, 21, of 326 Orange Ave., La Puente, the brother of the escapee, and Arthur G. Silva, 22, of Whittier were detained by YTS authorities and turned over to the Chino police. The pair were booked in the jail and police are seeking a complaint in the district attorney's office charging the two with assisting a prisoner to escape.

this week but a spokesman for Mrs. Ford said today it would be Monday.

Ford won't have to fix his own breakfast after he moves into the White House. There will be a kitchen, a steward and a steward to serve him his regular morning fare of hot tea, melon and English muffins.

Ford's routine of taking a dip in the pool and making his own breakfast has become well known since he became president last Friday. Mrs. Ford usually awakens around 7 a.m. and stays out of his way until Ford leaves on his motorcade ride to the White House.

Mrs. Ford has not begun to pack the family belongings, a 20-year accumulation for herself, her husband and their four children.

Three of the Ford children — Jack, 22, Steven, 18, and Susan 17 — will be on hand tonight for the President's first address to Congress. The Ford's other son, Michael, 24, a seminary student in Massachusetts, and his bride, Gayle, will not be able to attend.

Mrs. Ford not only must supervise her packing and order whatever redecorating she wants in the family rooms, but also faces the problem of selecting her official staff.

Bright picture is painted by oil companies

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The oil industry disclosed more about its business than ever before in recent earnings reports, the Oil and Gas Journal said in today's issue.

The Tulsa-based magazine said profits increased by 80 per cent compared to last year as the petroleum industry was one of the nation's top earners.

"The financial reports of oil companies for first half of 1974 make more sense than ever before. Taken as a whole, the reports probably comprise the best and fullest disclosure in industry history," the journal said in an editorial.

It said a group of 27 large petroleum companies earned $3.75 billion in the second quarter, an 80.2 per cent increase over the same period in 1973. First half earnings for the companies were $7.7 billion, a gain of 78.7 per cent.

The only industries in the nation showing better profits were the aluminum companies, reviving airlines and chain grocers, the Journal said.

Foreign operations are responsible for a large portion of petroleum industry gains and inflation and higher crude oil prices netted benefits for most companies with overseas interests, the Journal said. A few recorded gains from foreign currency exchanges stemming from dollar devaluation.

"Two factors stand out in this year's mid-year earnings: sources of substantial income are unusual and of one time only nature, and capital spending is far outrunning profits..." the magazine said.

Capital spending by companies exceeded first half earnings in nearly every case, the editorial said. Sources of these funds were a portion of earnings, in cash flow from depreciation, depletion, and in some cases heavy borrowing.

Big spending went into offshore lease bonuses, increased exploration, new production facilities, plus pipeline and refining expansion projects, according to the article.

Chamber directors plan supper meeting

The La Verne Chamber of Commerce Board of directors will meet for a supper meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Warehouse Pizza at 2340 D Street La Verne.

This will replace the regular meeting on that date which ordinarily is held at the chamber office at 8 a.m.

A progress report will be given on the La Verne display at the Los Angeles County Fair. Vice president Barrett Anderson is chairman of the committee. The new president, Walter Morrison, will outline some of his plans for the coming year.

IT'S OFFICIAL

Gov. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, left, officially opens the state lottery sales as he purchases a 50-cent ticket from Bob Penner, manager of a motor hotel near the state house.

Greeks begin to release prisoners; peace talks on

By United Press International

Greek-led troops today freed the first thousands of Turkish war prisoners on Cyprus and evacuated some occupied Turkish Cypriot enclaves in a move to cool the crisis. But some minor new fighting was reported and Greece strengthened its mainland forces to meet any new Turkish military moves on Cyprus.

The British, Greek and Turkish foreign ministers worked in Geneva to find a basis for a new political setup in Cyprus that would be acceptable to both Greek and Turkish Cypriots, but progress was slow despite what Britain called some "procedural progress."

Ranking delegates in Geneva said agreement is close on giving Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders one month to draft a new constitutional order for the island republic.

Turkish sources said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger intervened in a personal telephone call to Turkish Prime Minister Bulent Ecevit Sunday to save the talks from threatened breakdown over Turkish demands that the island be divided into Turkish and Greek areas.

The sources said Kissinger put new "proposals" for a settlement to Ecevit who promised to consider them. Details of the proposals were not disclosed.

The three ministers Sunday held a day of on-and-off again negotiations and continued their talks over dinner Sunday night at British foreign secretary James Callaghan's lakeside hotel.

Conference officials said they decided to cancel a full conference session planned for this morning while Callaghan, Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros and Turkish Foreign Minister Turan Gunes had separate private talks with Greek Cypriot acting president Glafkos Clerides and Turkish Cypriot vice president Rauf Denktash.

Callaghan said the atmosphere has been eased slightly by the release of some prisoners by Greece and Turkey and evacuation by the Greeks of some Turkish villages and their handover to United Nations forces.

"This obviously is a step in the right direction," Callaghan said.

Callaghan said he held separate talks with Clerides, Denktash and Mavros and arranged for Clerides and Denktash to continue their private conversations in his office during the afternoon.

"I hope this can be followed by a fuller meeting between the three guarantor powers later this afternoon," he said.

Britain, the former colonial ruler of Cyprus, ordered 1,000 tough Nepalese Gurkha troops to reinforce its 10,000-man force on the eastern Mediterranean Island. Turkish radio and television condemned the move and said it had brought a war atmosphere to Cyprus.

The Turkish Cypriot information office in Nicosia said today fighting had erupted between Greek Cypriot national guard troops and Turkish Cypriot villagers at Ayia Katerina, Melousa and Arzos in remote, mountainous parts of the island. But a spokesman at the Greek Cypriot information office said, "We know nothing of any renewed fighting."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., a former judge, said, "I don't think the American people would stand for it (prosecution)."

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., said that while he felt compassion for Nixon, "I do not believe the President should be set above other Americans and given special immunity."

Ford was to address Congress tonight to outline his domestic and foreign policy programs and to seek an end to the rift between the White House and Capitol Hill that developed during the Nixon years.

"The overriding angle is going to be one of reiteration of the unity theme," a White House official said. "It will be a pledge to Congress of cooperation ... and a request of reciprocal cooperation with the executive."

With impeachment proceedings over, congressional leaders planned to stick to their original Labor Day schedules. The House will recess Aug. 23 until Sept. 10 and the Senate will quit Aug. 23 and return Sept. 4.

He has asked House Parliamentarian William Brown to recommend a way of ending the process.

One possibility is to present the House with a resolution formally ending the proceedings. Another alternative is merely a formal presentation of the committee report to the House.

Committee counsel John M. Doar gave Rodino the final draft of the report during the weekend, and Rodino planned to make some changes before

GOP hopes to elect more governors

CHICAGO (UPI) — With Richard Nixon out of the White House, the nation's Republican governors are hoping to put more Republicans in governors' mansions across the nation.

"We're determined to make this year a start toward eroding that Democratic advantage and increasing the number of Republican governors," Tennessee Gov. Winfield Dunn, chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, told a news conference Sunday.

In 1967, Dunn noted, there were 32 GOP governors and 18 Democratic governors. Now, he says, the figure is identical, but the Democrats occupy the 32 governors' mansions.

With Nixon out of the way, the GOP governors are hoping that Watergate will take a back seat in the upcoming campaigns and that the Republicans will be able to turn the tables.

Sixteen GOP governors or gubernatorial nominees were on hand Sunday for the strategy session.

Dunn told newsmen that he felt Watergate would remain an issue in the upcoming elections, but said he was glad Nixon resigned.

"I hope his action cleared the air so that the governors' races can be carried out on current issues, such as inflation, employment and educational opportunities, for instance," he said.

Dunn said campaign contributions to the GOP coffers were small at this point, but indicate there will be plenty financial backing for the party's campaigns.

"It's in the hundreds and low thousands now, but it convinces me the Republican party still has good financial support," Dunn said.

Dunn, Missouri Gov. Christopher Bond and North Carolina Gov. James E. Holshouser Jr., told newsmen they would frown on any efforts by President Ford to solicit a Democratic vice president.

All agreed that former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller would make an acceptable candidate. Dunn said Rockefeller was at the top of the list of prospective vice presidents he submitted to Ford. Bond called Rockefeller an excellent choice and Holshouser said he would approve of Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, who addressed the meeting, refused to discuss the vice presidency, saying it would be unfair to President Ford.

Otto Kruger ill

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Veteran character actor Otto Kruger is in "very good condition" after he suffered a slight stroke at his Bel Air home Saturday.

A spokesman at the Motion Picture Country Home and Hospital said Kruger was "sitting up in bed and joking." Kruger, 88, began his stage career in a 1920's silent film. From there, his career continued onstage through half a century of talkies and television roles until his retirement in 1964.

APPRECIATIVE SMILE

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a possible vice presidential contender, looks at Cindy Matanich

of Seattle, winner of a beauty contest at the GOP county picnic Sunday in Seattle.

CYPRUS NEGOTIATORS

Turkey's Foreign Minister Turan Gunes, left, and Greece's Foreign Minister George Mavros smile and wave upon arrival at U.N. European headquarters in Geneva Sunday to resume negotiations on Cyprus peace.

Rain breaks Midwest drought

By United Press International

Thunderstorms have brought some heavy rains to the nation's drought parched midlands, breaking what some experts called the worst drought since the Dust Bowl days of the 1930s but posing yet another threat to crops — too much rain.

Allen Pearson of the National Severe Storms Forecast Center at Kansas City, Mo., warned that heavy rains could do more harm than good.

"The weather map looks like spring," Pearson said. "If it's one thing this area doesn't need, it's another bunch of gully washers. We had enough of that this spring."

While the rains were expected to help some crops in the drought-blistered midlands, they were far too late to save many crops, particularly corn. Drought losses have been estimated in excess of $10 billion.

"First the spring rains come and turn the land into mud. Then it doesn't rain for a couple of months and the corn shrivels up and everything is covered with dust. Now the rains again, more mud," said Mike McGowan, a southeastern Kansas farmer.

"You can't even walk in the fields, let alone work. And it's washing washing the soil away from my soybeans and they're all I've got left."

Most livestock men in the Kansas-Missouri area have cut sharply into their winter hay stockpiles to survive the drought and the rains brought them some consolation. If the rains can revive the grass, feed problems could be averted until at least late fall.

But some ranchers, anticipating the drought's effects on feed prices, still hurried to sell their cattle.

"I've never run into anything like this in my life," said Bill House, a Kansas rancher and former president of the American National Cattlemen's Association.

"This is the first time I can remember such a total disaster in grain and grazing. The pastures are burned up, but the real disaster is there's no corn in the corn belt," he said.

"Corn means meat and milk in this part of the country and the corn is gone no matter how much it rains now. The situation is just about as desperate as it can get," he said.

Israel prepares reserves callup; Arabs cite move as 'aggressive'

By United Press International

Israel made preparations today for its first nationwide callup of military reservists since last October's war, testing the nation's readiness for a new Middle East conflict.

In the Arab world, Beirut newspapers denounced the impending maneuver as a "coverup for Israel's aggressive designs" and accused the Jewish state of massing troops on its borders with Syria, Lebanon and Egypt.

The Beirut newspaper An Nahar said today the Soviet ambassador to Lebanon has told Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat that Israel may be planning to attack its Arab neighbors in order to freeze moves toward a Middle East settlement.

Israel announced the one-day mobilization in a communiqué after Sunday's weekly cabinet meeting in Jerusalem.

but did not set a date. Military sources said the callup could come soon, perhaps in the next few days.

The decision for a national mobilization follows weeks of warnings by Israeli generals that the Arabs may launch another war within the next year.

The cabinet communiqué said advance notice of the 24-hour exercise will be given to foreign embassies and United Nations headquarters in the region.

At the Israeli meeting, Foreign Minister Yigal Allon briefed the cabinet on his talks in Washington last week about the next possible moves in peace negotiations.

The Israeli national radio said the United States had proposed five separate plans aimed at a partial settlement between Israel and Jordan.

Israeli newspapers said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told Israel Jordan is prepared to start negotiations.

King Hussein of Jordan is scheduled to be President Ford's first official dinner guest of honor at the White House Thursday night. The English-language Jerusalem Post said Kissinger's recent talks in Washington with Jordanian Premier Zeid Rifai laid the groundwork for future negotiations.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Ha'aretz said Kissinger may visit Israel by the end of this month after a series of talks with Arab leaders.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi headed for Washington today for a one-week stay and Beirut press reports said Syrian Foreign Minister Abd Halim Khaddam would follow soon.

Both Israeli and Arab leaders received assurances from President Ford over the weekend that American peace efforts in the Middle East will continue.

Ford renewed former President Richard M. Nixon's invitation to Egyptian leader Anwar Sadat to visit the United States before the end of the year.

An Israeli patrol boat Saturday sank a rubber dinghy carrying Arab guerrillas toward northern Israel for an apparent raid. Israeli said the dinghy exploded and sank during an exchange of fire near the Lebanese coast.

Commission claims zoning laws create 'white nooses'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Civil Rights Commission says suburban governments have created "white nooses" around America's cities by perpetuating segregated housing through unfair zoning laws and non-enforcement of fair housing ordinances.

The commission, in a 72-page report, recommended that the federal government set up housing and community development agencies in metropolitan areas to make sure minorities are not discriminated against in housing.

"Suburban governments," the commission said, "have acted almost exclusively in their own economic interests, often to the detriment of the central city and of the metropolitan area as a whole."

"Exclusionary zoning, failure to enact or enforce fair housing ordinances, and failure to utilize federal housing assistance programs have been used by suburbs to create white nooses around central cities," the report said.

The agencies would monitor housing policies either statewide or in city and suburban areas and would have the power to overrule local zoning policies that foster segregation.

The commission report — "Equal Opportunity in Suburbia" — also suggested the government give subsidies or tax cuts to all persons buying homes in areas working towards racial integration.

It said present enforcement of federal fair housing regulation actually encouraged segregation and recommended that all federal agencies, including the Justice Department and financial agencies, step up enforcement of fair housing laws.

Present federal programs "often are administered so as to continue rather than reduce racial segregation," the commission said.

The report was based on hearings and factfinding meetings held in St. Louis, Baltimore, Washington, D.C., Boston, Milwaukee and Phoenix.

Detroit (UPI) — When his girl friend, Shirley Reed, failed to return to her parents' home Sunday, her Vietnam veteran boyfriend became impatient.

He asked the girl's father, Leonard Reed, 47 for the family car to search for her, but he was refused. The refused and the girl's absence, police alleged, drove him to a drunken rage.

Armed with a hammer and a knife, police said, the angered boyfriend killed Shirley's father and brother, raped and knifed her sister and then slashed a 2½-year-old baby, police said.

Police said the boyfriend, 23-year-old David C. Key, got a hammer and beat Reed unconscious, then went to a bedroom and tried to rape the man's 16-year-old daughter at knifepoint.

The girl ran into another room, seeking help from her brother, Leonard Jr., 15. The boy was stabbed to death and the girl was returned to the bedroom, raped and stabbed.

Detectives said the assailant returned to Reed, stabbed him, then found little Stanley Reed in his crib and slashed the child with the knife.

Police said Key, his clothes soaked with blood, then walked into the street, approached a policeman and announced: "I just killed four people."

Police found two dead and two wounded.

In one room they found Reed's body. He had been beaten and stabbed.

In another room, Leonard Jr., lay dead of stab wounds.

The baby, covered with blood, was in his crib. Police said he had been viciously slashed with a knife.

Reed's 16-year-old daughter was found across the street, collapsed on a neighbor's porch. She had been raped and stabbed, police said.

The girl and baby were hospitalized in serious condition.

Key was being held in police custody.

Neighbors, who told police they heard screaming in the Reed home, said Key had been living with the Reeds for several weeks.

Authorities said Reed had been drinking heavily while waiting for Shirley to return.

Vietnam vet kills two, rapes friend's sister

APPRECIATIVE SMILE

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a possible vice presidential contender, looks at Cindy Matanich

of Seattle, winner of a beauty contest at the GOP county picnic Sunday in Seattle.

that 10
Forbes
rom La be an-

Oil brings wealth, woes

Norway--richest?

COPENHAGEN — Within a few years Norway will become the per capita richest country in the world, thanks to the gigantic oil and gas finds which this small nation of under four million people has made in the North Sea.

But so far the prospect of enormous wealth seems to have brought the Norwegians lots of problems and not much satisfaction.

One great fear is that oil revenues cannot be spent without causing raging inflation through pressure that extra spending puts on domestic resources. What's more, the very strength of the oil industry threatens to extinguish important traditional industries, including the politically sensitive farming and fishing industries, and to disrupt the entire structure of the economy.

There is also a bitter conflict on how to spend oil riches, whether as a means to socialize the country or to give Ola Nordmand (as the Norwegians refer to themselves) a bit more money in his own pocket, allowing him to decide for himself how to spend it.

Internationally the government's decision to opt for a very slow rate of future exploration and exploitation poses a potentially bitter conflict between Norway and oil-hungry Western Europe.

The issues at stake in exploring the waters north of the Arctic Circle, including the strategically vital Barents Sea Area, have already brought Norway into opposition to the Soviet Union. Russia does not agree with the Norwegian view on how the Barents Sea should be carved up for the purposes of the oil and gas search.

"We are condemned to be rich," said Finance Minister Per Kleppe, and it sums up much of the feeling in Norway now that they have got over the first excitement of finding oil in the giant Ekofisk field and gas in the Frigg field.

But it is not all gloom. The present acute awareness of the problems involved is perhaps an indication of the Norwegians' determination to administer their wealth sensibly, doing their best to preserve the character of the nation as they know it and not permitting it to turn into a sort of Nordic Kuwait,

GIVE YOUR CHILD THE ADVANTAGES OF A PRIVATE SCHOOL EDUCATION!

- ★ PRE-SCHOOL
- ★ KINDERGARTEN
- ★ GRADES 1-8
- Extended Day Care for working mothers.

Dr. Dana Pankey, President
POMONA VALLEY CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS
845 E. Arrow Hwy., Pomona • NA 4-1678

HELD OVER 1 WEEK!

40th Annual

CHILDREN'S PHOTOGRAPH CONTEST

Your Child's Special Smile can win a $2,500 Shopping Spree in our store.

We'll photograph your child at special prices and enter an extra picture in the contest at no extra charge.

THE BROADWAY MONTCLAIR Portrait Studio—First Floor 621-3011

CONTEST SPECIAL: 7 portraits $6.95 in Life Color $14.95

(THAT'S MORE THAN 1/2 OFF!)

ENTER! Call or bring your child to the Portrait Studio.

00 HOURS

TOMORROW TUESDAY 10am-9pm ONLY!

is SUPERIOR CUSTOMER DAY

SORRY THIS DAY IS LIMITED TO CUSTOMERS THAT HAVE PREVIOUSLY BOUGHT AT SUPERIOR FURNITURE ONLY!!!

*YOU BRING AN OLD INVOICE, RECEIPT OR PROOF THAT YOU BOUGHT FROM US BEFORE

SAVE!

$10-$30-$40-$100 etc

WE WANT OUR OLD CUSTOMERS COMING BACK TO US.
HERE'S HOW IT WORKS.

BUY $50 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$15 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $100 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$20 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $100-200 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$25 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $200-300 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$30 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

'300-$400 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$45 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $400-500 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$50 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $500-600 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$60 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $600-$700 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$70 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $700-$800 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$85 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

BUY $800-1000 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE

$100 OFF OUR TICKET PRICE

REMEMBER OUR PRICES WILL BE LOW, LOW, LOW PRICES TO START WITH....

5% DELIVERY WILL BE CHARGED ON TUESDAYS ONLY...U HAUL and U-SAVE!

(THIS OFFER NOT GOOD ON FAIR TRADED ITEMS-OFFER GOOD ONLY ON NEW MERCHANDISE!) E!

CREDIT AVAILABLE UP TO 36 MTHS TO PAY OR LAYAWAY IF YOU WISH.

$299 FOR THIS 3 PIECE SECTIONAL

SPECIAL SAVINGS ON THIS SET TO YOU WILL BE... $30

$269 *

NET PRICE

THIS IS JUST AN EXAMPLE OF HOW TUESDAY BONUS DAYS WILL WORK FOR YOU, OUR SPECIAL CUSTOMER AT SUPERIOR.

NAME BRAND QUALITY FURNITURE AT LOW PRICES!

SUPERIOR FURNITURE
MONTCLAIR ONLY
714 - 624-7111

HOURS DAILY 10-9
SAT 10-6 & SUN 11-7
MONTCLAIR POMONA
9135 CENTRAL AVE.

ACROSS FROM MONTCLAIR PLAZA AND DIRECTLY IN BACK OF AMERICAN SAVINGS ON CENTRAL & MORENO.

Superior
FURNITURE

CORN DUMPED — A drought withered, stunted ear of corn, right, compared with a normal ear shows how crops have been affected by the worst drought to hit the midlands since the

Dispute aired in Mexican border village

Town aches for pure water

M E A D O W V I S T A, N.M. (UPI) — Residents of this small community near the Mexican border claim their water is so bad it makes their stomach ache.

And they don't care for the woman who runs the water system, either.

"She always trying to rob us because we're poor and we don't speak English," Mrs. Cruz Lira told the state Public Service Commission.

But Mrs. Marie McMillian, who said it is God's will that she operate the community water system for the impoverished residents of the area in southern New Mexico, labeled the complaints "just political."

"The Lord put me here to help these poor people," she said. "I've tried to be equal with them and not to be high handed. Of course I drink my own water. I wouldn't be guilty of making anyone sick."

The state commission, which issues permits for operation of community water systems, will hold hearings next month to investigate the complaints.

"We wouldn't be going down there for a hearing if we didn't think it was a serious problem," said commission chairman Richard Montoya. "We hope we can settle the matter."

Tests by the state health laboratory confirmed the water is of poor quality. The lab said it exceeds recommended concentrations of sulfates, chlorides and other solids, and is about twice as hard as the acceptable limit.

"It's so bad that my husband has to bring home two cans of water every day for drinking and cooking," said Mrs. Rachel Estala, another Meadow Vista resident testified.

Mrs. McMillian admits the water does have high concentrations of sulfates and chlorides, but said it's not that bad and she might drill a new well soon to help take care of some of the problems.

She said nobody seems to complain about the water "except for every other year when it's election time, and that's what this fuss is about."

Mrs. McMillian said the community is "the filthiest thing this side of Tijuana" and a collection of "cesspools, outhouses and slop jars." She told the commission that most of the residents are on welfare.

After seeing how well my girl friend gets along, I wondered if I would be better off if I had my left leg removed and was fitted with an artificial limb. My family doctor says the decision is up to me.

I would really appreciate your opinion.

Dear Reader — That is not a decision you can make without a careful study of the details of the problem. First you need the benefit of an expert evaluation of the problem by a specialist in orthopedic surgery. The condition of your shortened leg makes a lot of difference. This may determine whether or not you would want to keep the knee joint, should it be advisable and you wanted to have surgery.

DON HALL HARDWARE Complete Line of Hardware Housewares & Paints Corner of Towne Ave. & Arrow Hwy.

What Do Many Doctors Use When They Suffer Pain And Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues?

Exclusive formula gives prompt, temporary relief from such pain and itch in many cases. Helps shrink painful hemorrhoidal tissues due to inflammation.

In a survey, doctors were asked what they use to relieve such pain and itch in many cases. And it actually helps shrink painful swelling of such tissues when inflamed. Try doctor-tested Preparation H. There's no other formula like it. At drug counters everywhere. Ointment or suppositories.

Preparation H gives prompt temporary relief for hours in

Now, the real question I must ask you. Three months

Lou Miller's back to school grand opening in montclair k-mart plaza • 9460 central 1 block so. of montclair plaza central ave. & san bernardino fwy.

K-KAR live broadcast in our parking lot tues. aug 13 • 2 to 6 pm

free... Levi's given away every hour tues. aug. 13 thru fri. aug. 16 plus other hourly gifts thru aug. 25 country music band, free balloons and lots, lots more all starting tomorrow at 10am

here in person sat. aug 17 from 4 to 7
William Shatner famous star of "Star Trek"
movies and t.v.

free... '74 vega kammback wagon register daily

given away
sun. sept. 29 at 5 p.m.

UTILITIES UNDERGROUND

Southern California Edison Co. foreman Jack Shaw supervises the removal of a 60-foot high pole at First Street and Indian Hill Boulevard, Claremont, as part of the firm's undergrounding of utilities from First Street south to San Jose Avenue. General Telephone Co. also cooperated in undergrounding its lines. The city arranged for the undergrounding so that drivers using Indian Hill Boulevard would have a clear view of the mountains. The pole had carried three 12,000-volt lines. David E. Martin, Edison manager, said the pole will be used again at another site because of the rising cost of wood.

Local Social Security office warns about inaccurate, misleading books

The Social Security office in Pomona has advised residents to be aware of misleading and often inaccurate books on social security.

Mrs. A. Lorraine Brannen, social security district manager in Pomona, said "some books on Social Security are useful, but there are others that are inaccurate, misleading, and deceptively advertised."

Some of these books are well done, admitted Mrs. Brannen, "but the information in them isn't secret or inside. If advertising suggests it is, the advertising is false."

Some advertising hints that a publisher has an official connection with the Social Security Administration and has access to social security records.

"This is never true," she said, "because no advertiser has access to other people's Security records. These records are confidential, under law."

Dramatic claims for books can be misleading, Mrs. Brannen said.

"For example, an advertisement says readers will learn 'how to collect $300 a month from Social Security at age 30 while you work full time.' The book tells you what any Social Security office will tell you without charge. If a young father and mother are both working under Social Security and one dies, their children may get monthly Social Security payments," she said.

Mrs. Brannen added that any persons having questions may contact the Social Security office, 445 E. Holt Ave., Pomona, for free advice or phone 629-4021.

Gifts worth $2,914 accepted for schools

More than $2,914 in gifts for various schools in the Claremont Unified School District were accepted recently by the school board.

The Condit PFA donated carpeting valued at $1,722.91 for installation in rooms 8, 15, and K-A at Condit Elementary School before the start of school in September.

A set of drums valued at $200 was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manter. The drum belonged to their son, a former El Roble student, who recently died.

A gift of $50 was given by Mrs. Maria Falk in memory of her father, Louis Dinsfirend, in appreciation of the services the district and especially the teachers and principal at Mountain View School provided for her son through the educationally handicapped program.

Ralph Canter gave a slide projector, record player, reel to reel tape deck, and a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica valued at $110 for use in the education program at El Roble Intermediate School.

Chaparral PFA presented library periodicals, Singer Graphlex, badminton sets, and a reading machine and listening center, all valued at $755 for use in the library, classrooms and for programs at the school.

Various Condit parents donated library books valued at $76.

A gift of 20 volumes of Sweet's Catalogues, 1972 edition, was presented by Rufus Turner for use in the drafting department at Claremont High School.

Community Nursery School will have open house teas

Pomona Community Nursery School will hold its annual open house tea Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 20-22, from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

The school, at 851 E. Philadelphia St., is a non-profit parent cooperative. It is sponsored by the Adult Education Department of the Pomona Unified School District.

Mrs. Cecil Harris, teacher-director, will greet guests. She will be assisted by board members.

Parents are encouraged to bring young children to sample activities at the playhouse, sandbox, water table, tricycle area, work bench and in the two classrooms where there are art, music, puppets, puzzles, literature and science displays.

The school offers two programs, a two-day program on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 11:15 a.m. for children 2 years 9 months to 3 years 9 months at $11 a month, and a three-day program on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 to 11:30 a.m. for children 3 years 9 months to kindergarten for $15 a month.

A nursery is available for younger children of mothers who work at the school.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Douglas Myers 623-7427 or Mrs. Gregory Woodell at 629-7647.

Quiz figure quit Senate this year

Before he ends his 30-year Senate career in January, this newsman intends to work for a normalization of U.S. relations with Cuba.

He is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Do you know his name?

Test yourself of this and other news questions in the quiz, appearing today on page 17. It is published weekly by the Progress-Bulletin as part of its current events program for schools in this area.

Answers to today's questions may be found in the Pomona First Federal Savings & Loan Association advertisement on page 18.

Honor students at Magnolia

Magnolia Junior High School in Chino has announced its honor students for the fourth quarter of the school year for group three in the year-round school program.

Named to the school honor roll for attaining a B average during the quarter were:

EIGHTH GRADE — Robert Abilez, Gilbert Alcala, Jesse Atilano, Pamela Bromley, Lisa Chacon, Elizabeth Clarke, Teri Gerritsen, Janice Hansen, Eleanor Hatfield, Ann Heida, Irene Hindelang, Vickie Hines, Carla Holman, Janet Ito, Jeanette Jaques, Ann Knudsen, Gary Kroese, Denise LaBr-ucherie, Karen Lass, Ann Lewis, Anna Lobo, Deborah Mahony, Thomas Mahony, Terri Mitchell, Steve Montes, William Nicoll, Trudy Nyenhuis, Ralph Partida, Julianna Petrisans, David Ramos, Diana Rojo, Julie Rylaarsdam, Rosemary Santos, Mary Sommer, Filomena Sousa, Darren Stovall, Crespinia Tevino, Cynthia VanderPoel, Marcellyn White, Cynthia Williams and Randy Wolfinbarger.

SEVENTH GRADE — Marie Aphesetche, Michele Barefoot, Janet Bromley, Laurie Hall, Ginger Harmon, Amy Koster, Daniel Lewis, Terrie Pack, Miguel Santana and Pamela Stiver.

On City Council agenda

Study of Fire Station 1

A seismic study of Fire Station 1, annexation of 8.4 acres on Claremont Heights Drive and a damaged children's mosaic from the old Claremont Public Library will be reviewed when the Claremont City Council meets in the council chambers Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The council in May ordered the study by a structural engineer of Fire Station 1 next to City Hall on Second Street. The station was built in 1925, and City Manager Keith Mulrooney has recommended that even if the station is seismically safe it should be phased out.

Man, 87, struck by own rolling car in driveway

Clark Keagy Sr., 87, of 5050 N. Citrus Ave., Covina, today is in serious condition at Pomona Valley Community Hospital in Pomona after being struck by a rolling car in a driveway in Claremont.

Keagy was struck by his own car Saturday at 12:20 p.m. and taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Highway patrolmen said he left his car standing in the drive at 4761 Live Oak Canyon Road, Claremont, to open a garage door and it began rolling. In his attempts to stop the vehicle it struck his leg, then hit a tree, coming to a stop.

A hospital spokesman said the leg injury was not serious, but the accident had caused a flareup of Keagy's heart condition. He is being cared for in the cardiovascular care unit.

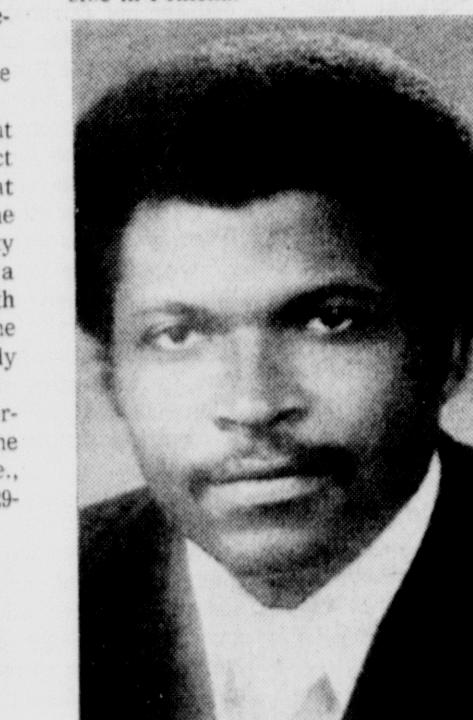

Branch manager is appointed by First Federal

David C. Shaw has been named branch manager of the Pomona downtown office of Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Shaw has been with Pomona First Federal for 2½ years, and has previously held positions as loan assistant and loan officer.

A native of California, he is a graduate of Ganesh High School in Pomona and attended Mt. San Antonio College. He was employed with the Los Angeles County Registrar of Voters Office for over two years.

Shaw, his wife, Lennie, and son reside in Pomona.

DAVID C. SHAW

Store planning grand opening

A sixth Lou Miller Store will open Tuesday morning at 10 in the K-Mart Plaza Center on Central Avenue in Montclair.

The week-long grand opening festivities will include free gifts, rides, refreshments and a new 1974 compact car. William Shatner, star of the television show "Star Trek," will be greeting visitors Saturday from 4 to 7 p.m.

The chain has department stores currently in San Bernardino, Riverside, Whittier, Orange and East Los Angeles.

U.S. budget aide will leave post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Frederick Malek is resigning as deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget, it was learned today.

Malek is one of the first top level Nixon administration officials to depart following the swearing in of President Ford. However, he had made known his plans to resign several months ago.

He will join the Ludwig Corp. with headquarters in New York, which he describes as a "collection of companies" involved in shipping, natural resources and real estate.

After a protest hearing on the annexation the council may adopt resolutions finding that a majority protest has not been made and requesting the county Board of Supervisors to consolidate a special election Nov. 5 with the general state and national elections.

Friends of the Claremont Library are unhappy about the handling of the children's mosaic which once was part of the wall over the mantle in the old library and which was damaged by a contractor hired to cut it out of the wall of the building.

Mrs. Margaret Gibbs will discuss the matter before the council for the Friends, who would like the damaged mosaic restored by the contractor, who is retaining the mosaic until the city pays its bill for its removal.

The Friends want the mosaic installed in the new county library at Second Street and Harvard Avenue.

In other matters, Mulrooney will report that all funds have been received and construction of restrooms at El Dorado Park will begin soon.

The council will receive a letter from

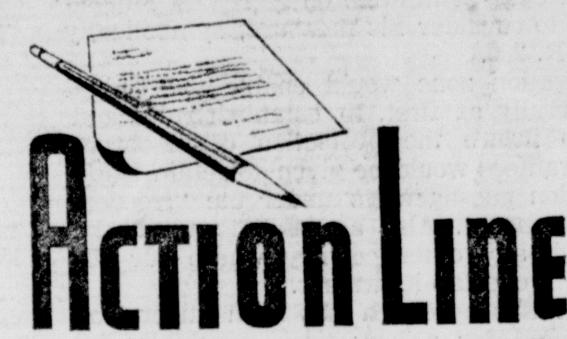

T. Dwight Brown requesting that 10 acres at the northeast corner of Forbes and Miramar avenues, across from La Pureto Intermediate School, be annexed to the city.

Program announced for summer concert

The Pomona Concert Band will present its sixth concert of the summer season Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Ganesha Park bandshell.

Stanton Selby, conductor, will direct the band in such selections as "Huldigungsmarsch," the overture to "William Tell," "The Minstrel Boy," "Bells across the Meadows," "Fantasy on American Sailing Songs," and selections from "My Fair Lady."

Also included in the program will be the marches "On the Mall," "The Thin Red Line," "Fairest of the Fair," and the grand march from "The Queen of Sheba."

To ask help in solving problems with which you have been unsuccessful, write to Action Line, The Progress-Bulletin, P. O. Box 2708, Pomona, Calif. 91766. Sign your full name, address and phone number and include copies (not the original) of receipts or other documentation possible. If your letter is published, only your initials will be used.

Twice the complaints bring double results

My problem is that I subscribed to Ebony magazine six months ago to help a student in a school project.

My first payment of $20 was made at that time. The second payment, for the same amount, was made two months later to Public Circulation Service, Inc.

I still haven't received a copy of the magazine. — E.F., Pomona.

A copy of your receipt sent with your letter showed that the subscription was for five years.

We wrote to Publix twice, once after receiving your letter and again two months later after you phoned us to say your magazine hadn't come yet.

We got no answer and you got no magazine. We then wrote to Ebony. This letter brought a prompt response to you from Mrs. Claudia Robinson.

She said she had telephoned Publix and spoken with a Mrs. Mary Smart, who could find no record of the order.

You were asked to send a copy of your receipt and copies of the back and front of your canceled check to Mrs. Smart, who promised you a refund.

You followed directions but received neither refund nor subscription.

We then wrote to David Ordway, consumer advocate of the U.S. Postal Service, whose office is in Washington, D.C.

Wynne Grossman, consumer affairs associate with that office, wrote nearly a month later that she had asked Publix to review your problem.

This finally brought action from Publix, a year and a month after you ordered your subscription. You began getting your copies of Ebony—two each month!

My brother and I worked a year ago for a Glendale construction company on a job in Pasadena.

The company paid each of us the amount of $1,800 in bad checks. The balance due was never paid. $2,400 is due each of us.

The checks were taken to the labor board in Los Angeles. It has been a year and we still have received nothing. The case has been turned over to a criminal court.

We worked for the money and we want what is ours.

The bank had to take money out of our savings to cover the bad checks. The whole deal really left us holding the bag. — D.L., San Dimas.

You told us you were afraid the statute of limitations was running out on your case.

Our inquiry to the Division of Labor Law Enforcement, State of California Department of Industrial relations, brought a response from Gerald Friedman, attorney.

He said a complaint filed Jan. 15, 1974, in the Superior Court of Los Angeles, includes the wages you seek.

Filing of the action nullified the statute of limitations.

The trial has been set for Aug. 22 but the construction company has filed a motion to change the date.

Friedman said the labor law enforcement division is processing your case as fast as it can. However, the court calendar is beyond the division's control.

I would like help in finding out if my father or any of his family is alive.

All my life my mother has told me he died when I was six months old. At that time he lived in Mississippi.

Recently it came to my attention through my relatives that he may still be alive. — C.N., Pomona.

Write a letter explaining who you are and why you want to locate your father.

Address copies of this letter to agencies in the cities or communities where your father may have lived.

For various legal reasons agencies can't always send his address but they can forward a letter to him.

We sent you a list of good places to send such a letter.

Could you get the address of Magic Mountain?

I want to write a letter to the employment recruiter at the amusement park concerning summer youth jobs. — V.M., Pomona.

Write to Magic Mountain, Magic Mountain Parkway, Valencia, Calif. 91355.

EDITORIAL

Opinion

Bill to save marine resources

To most of us the vast oceans and their resources—whatever those may be—seem infinite. But that is the way the early settlers of this nation felt about the forests and streams and great plains and wildlife. Unfortunately it isn't true, unless man understands that they need to be managed on a sustained basis so that they can be protected and utilized indefinitely.

To help establish such a management program, First District Congressman Don H. Clausen has, in every Congress since 1966, been seeking approval of a 200 mile marine resource conservation zone off our coast. He finally succeeded in getting a subcommittee of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries to consider his measure, symbolically numbered H. R. 200.

The conservation zone would enable the United States, unilaterally at first, to establish rules and regulations to insure the protection of resources within it. Guarantees would be given to retain traditional navigation passageways under the "freedom of the seas" concept. Also agreements would be negotiated with any other country where our 200 mile zone might overlap its waters.

The need for this approach has been understood and demonstrated for a long time, especially by American fishing interests, Clausen told the subcommittee. Foreign fishermen, however, "who are new to the fishing industry and who are fishing grounds of other nations are literally destroyers who lack foresight or appreciation of future needs. We must take whatever action we can to prevent them from destroying a vital natural resource and an important domestic industry. If we fail in these next few years there will be no second chance whatsoever."

Clausen's overall proposal calls for serious U.S. participation in the ongoing Law of the Seas Conference now considering the questions involved on an international basis. It has far-reaching implications for the world, and will take time. Meanwhile he advocates the unilateral action on the 200 mile zone phase because "our fishermen, our consumers and our economy simply cannot afford to wait that long without a change in the status quo."

Clausen's proposal is not exactly headline making, nor a dinner table conversation piece, but it covers a vital economic and environmental subject. It merits the most careful study by Congress.

Bread and gas

Soviet tractors are now being distributed to American farmers through U.S. farm equipment dealers, according to an Associated Press dispatch. This means that essential food and fiber production will depend in part upon utilization of Russian tractors. If the trend continues, the United States will be in the uncomfortable position of depending upon foreign imports of machinery to maintain food production. Moreover, the foreign machinery will very likely be dependent upon foreign oil imports for fuel.

Many reasons and excuses will be given for faltering American production and competitive ability. In the case of the Russian tractors, one U.S. farmer who now owns a Soviet machine says, "... An American tractor like this one would cost you about $7,000; their price is $5,600. And when you buy an American tractor, you go on a six-month waiting list..." After all the excuses and explanations, the fact remains that this country is leaning more and more on foreign productivity for its existence. Behind the rationalizations for what is happening lies the cold fact that many years of derogatory, punitive and even cynical antibusiness policies and attitudes in America are taking their toll.

Lack of fundamental support of the American business system has left the way wide open for its detractors to undermine it in legislative halls, in political campaigning, in educational institutions and at public forums of all kinds. The country is reaching the point where its bread and gasoline are now furnished through the courtesy of foreigners. Americans should begin asking themselves why this is happening.

Those bad words

One of the points, certainly not the major one, that has been made in regard to the Presidential tapes is their revelation of coarse language used by many on the highest governmental levels.

A Connecticut letter writer made an interesting comment on this to the Wall Street Journal recently. Said he, confessing offense at "the language, and perhaps the amoral consideration of the political problems reflected in the transcripts", the words read there are, however, "commonly accepted today in literature, drama and even in the bosom of the family...."

The writer wondered whether "the transcripts reflect the current moral standards of American society rather than just moral turpitude of the administration."

Not a bad question.

Progress-Bulletin

Serving Pomona Valley for 90 Years

Progress-Bulletin Publishing Company

Donald W. Reynolds, President

General Manager Bob G. Bush

Editor Joseph A. Gendron

Classified Advt. Mgr. Edwin H. Loescher

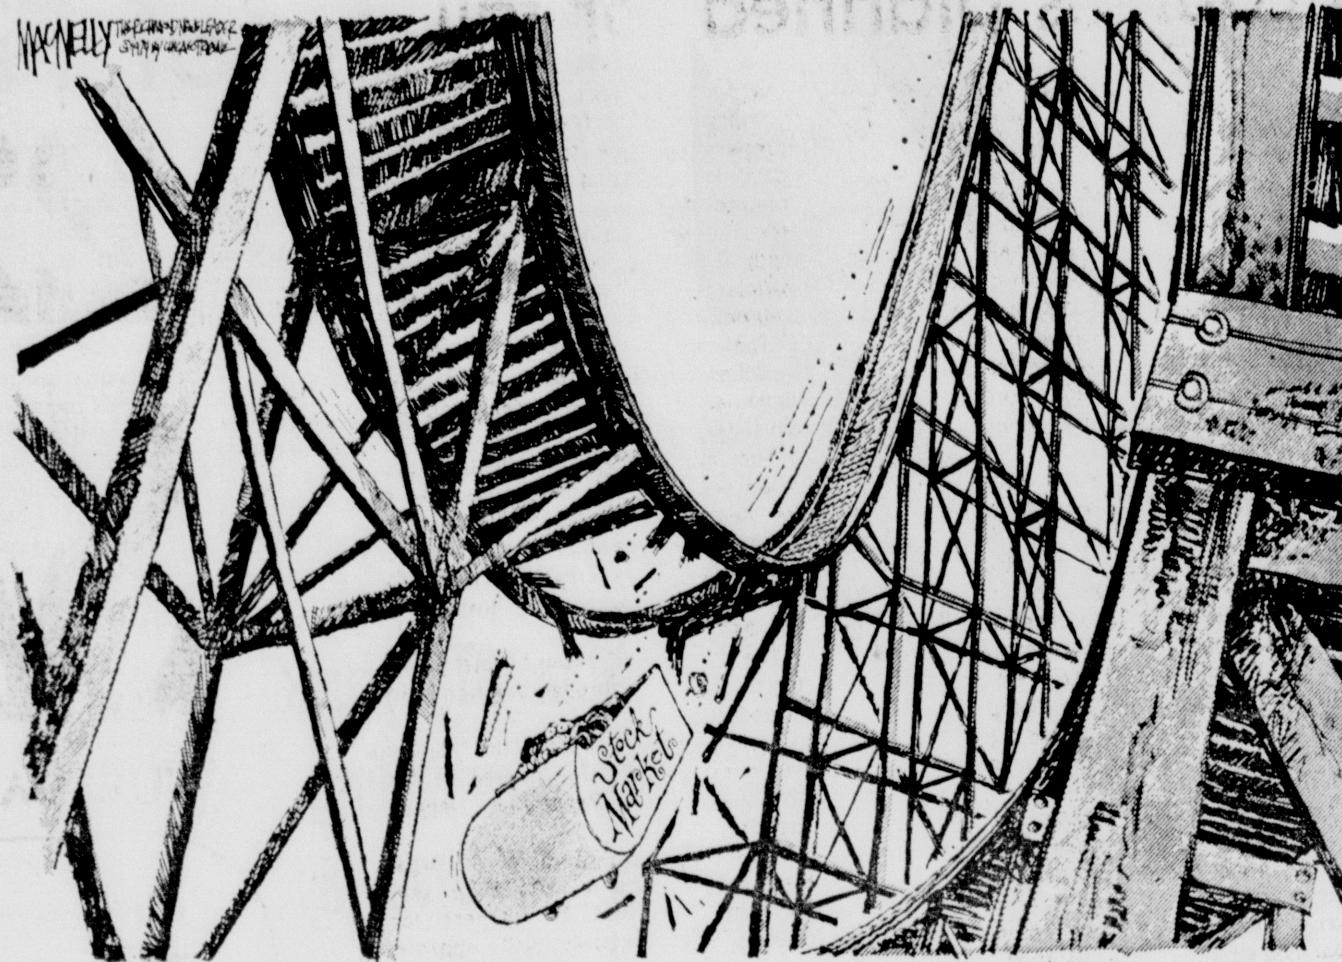

Advt. Mgr. Emmett J. Jones

Circulation Mgr. John Ardalan

Classified Advt. Mgr. Edwin H. Loescher

DONREY MEDIA GROUP

LOCALLY OPERATED MEMBER

THE PUBLIC FORUM

The assassination of Pres. Nixon

On Nov. 22, 1963, I was shocked and saddened by the assassination, by bullet, of President John F. Kennedy.

Today, Aug. 9, 1974, I am equally saddened, and shocked, by the second assassination, in my lifetime, of another President — Richard M. Nixon!

He did not die, by an assassin's bullet, but rather at the hands of many forked tongues, and poison pens! Either death is sad, but which death do you think was the most agonizing?

Less than two years ago, this man was elected to the highest office in our land, by an overwhelming majority of the American people. He had, at that time, served us (and it was evidently the opinion of most Americans!) well, for the previous four years!

In the months preceding his re-election, and for two or three months after his overwhelming success at the polls, he had concerned, and involved, himself, almost exclusively in ending the longest, and most costly, war in our history! His success was evidenced by the return, in early 1973, of many men who had been held captive by our enemies! All of these men spoke, in glowing terms, of their tremendous, and I am sure, sincere, respect for the leader of our country!

While President Nixon had been so involved, some overzealous supporters, took advantage of his preoccupation with ending the war, and they did engage in acts which we all, including President Nixon, find repugnant and reprehensible!

In the months that have passed since that time, President Nixon has been subjected to the most vicious type of assassination! Are there any among us who, in a moment of anger, or frustration, have not said, or done, something that we later regretted, or that could be misconstrued, if taken out of context, and which became more devastating each time it was repeated and elaborated upon?????

It is my humble opinion, that never, has any man been subjected to so much, and withstood it so well!

This, to me, is a day of infamy! What we have done to President Nixon, as a man, and a loyal American, can only be speculated upon! What we have done to ourselves is something else!

Gerald Ford is now our President! No "black marks" mar his record! I do wish him well, however, I do also subscribe to the old saying, and I do pray to God that I am proven wrong, that "it is impossible to do anything right, or wrong, unless you have done something!!!"

Since I have become of age, I have voted in every election, local and national, and I must admit that at this point my faith in our system of government and "justice" has been severely shaken! — Mike Minnehan, Claremont.

JACK ANDERSON

Soviets help to waylay terrorists

WASHINGTON — The Soviets, not wishing to jeopardize their ties with world revolutionary movements, have opposed strong international anti-hijacking action. But behind the scenes, the Soviets are cooperating with the West to waylay air terrorists.

Soviet officials alerted Western governments, for example, on the movements of three Japanese terrorists, one of them a member of the extremist "Japanese Red Army" who were allegedly plotting a hijacking.

The story of this undercover Soviet cooperation is contained in secret intelligence reports obtained by Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., who is seeking stronger measures to curb air piracy.

Soviet agents, according to one intelligence cable, heard reports the Japanese Red Army activist, Okudaira Fusako, had gone to Hong Kong. They reported that two other "Japanese radical youths, Okita Kozen and Sasaki Michihiro" had made a mysterious trip from Tokyo to Bangkok.

Although the Soviets couldn't substantiate all these reports, they obligingly gave them "wide dissemination" through "Soviet officials" overseas.

The intelligence reports show that the names of the three potential hijackers were divulged "in Malaysia, Laos and Senegal by Soviet Embassy and aeroflot (airline) officials," all as a courtesy to these lands.

Obviously, the Russians had good information. On July 15, a 26-year-old Japanese hijacker, Akira Iwakoshi, held a Japanese airliner as ransom. His intent was to free the jailed leader of the Japanese Red Army. When he failed, he slit his throat.

Footnote: In a letter to House Commerce Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W. Va., Murphy said he had received information from Federal Aviation Administration sources that four international airports are "wide open to terrorist attacks." Murphy identified them as London's Heathrow airfield, Copenhagen, Buenos Aires and Panama City.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: America's most disaffected and disadvantaged veterans, the men who fought in Vietnam, are receiving orders to report back to duty just as they are beginning to adjust to civilian life. With the end of the draft, the Army reserves are no longer attracting large numbers. The Army has been compelled, therefore, to tap Vietnam veterans to conduct training sessions . . . The National Retail Merchants Association has fired off a memo to all its members urging them to "act promptly" with letters to their senators against the Consumer Protection Agency. But not all retail merchants agree with the Association.

As Montgomery Ward's president Edward Donnell put it: "For business to always oppose whatever consumers propose, strains the credibility of our public statements that for us the consumer always comes first."

The Cost of Living Council, which did so little to keep costs down, is running true to form as it closes down. At a cost of almost $1 million to the taxpayers, it has shifted 150 of its employees, many of them political appointees, over to the Treasury Department's payroll. Most will be paid full salaries for make-work projects until they find new jobs . . . The next time Attorney General William Saxbe visits his $50,000 home in Costa Rica, he may want to use his famous persuasive talents to try to bring back one of his neighbors to the United States. The neighbor is Robert Vesco, the financial fugitive, who tried to pull strings in Washington through the Nixon family. For months, Vesco has ducked efforts to extradite him. He lives only a few miles from Saxbe's vacation home.

The material at hand is to the point, a memorandum for H.R. Haldeman from Fred Malek, on "Departmental Responsiveness" dated March 17, 1972 on White House stationery. The attached document, marked "extremely sensitive" is titled "Increasing the Responsiveness of the Executive Branch." Five copies were made.

The Malek plan proposed organizing each executive department for this systematic diversion of funds into programs where they would be most effective politically and providing for close White House monitoring by Malek to make certain all such divisions met their goals. Each departmental contact, usually an undersecretary, Malek wrote, would be expected to establish controls to ensure the desired action was taken.

Malek proposed he and his staff would coordinate the departmental plans in this "grantsmanship" operation, along with Casper (Cap) Weinberger, then on the White House staff and now secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. They would ensure that each department effectively fulfilled its quota.

As a first step, Malek went on, the departments should be given clear guidelines covering political priorities. These would be spelled out in terms of key states and major voting block groups on which departmental action could have an impact.

Malek listed both positive and negative decisions to be covered under this program. In the first group were: grants, contracts, loans, subsidies, procurement and construction projects. The negative actions were: taking legal or regulatory action against a group or government body, major cutbacks in programs and relocation of departmental operations.

This diversion of funds for political purposes also goes on regularly and systematically in the Senate and House of Representatives, in state capitols, in county boards of supervisors and in city councils. Only the most determined citizen effort will bring relief.

Berry's world

J. K. (DOC) PEIRSON

Just in jest

The wife of a Texas oil millionaire recently spent $48,000 for a set of dinner china. — And why not?

"Something had to be done," she told her husband. "Look at all the 'Ohs' and 'Ahs' and, 'We can see ourselves in your shining plates,' comments the common, ordinary housewife is getting from her dinner guests just because she washes every day dishes in Super Suds. After all, we have a position to maintain."

However, here in America it is not necessary to be filthy rich in order to enjoy the better things in life. As pointed out in a recent Congressional study, poor families on welfare can often increase their income by half again as much as they were originally living on if they just split up and then apply for individual benefits.

All of which just goes to prove that if you want to really enjoy life either be a Prince or a Pauper — never, never, settle for Mr. Inbetween. He is the fellow who, because of the food shortages and the 30 per cent increase in the cost of living over the last 5 years, recently wrote a Letter to the Editor complaining about the $2.5 billion spent on pet food annually in the U.S.

"More food would be available for humans if it were not going into animal stomachs," he pointed out.

He also felt, "It is highly unfair that a bank which once promised me a 'free for life checking account' is now making a monthly service charge when my account gets below $300."

RAY CROMLEY

Political profit at tax expense

WASHINGTON — Billions in public money and favors are channeled to individuals, groups and firms for political purposes. The loss to the taxpayer may be as great as the loss through theft by organized crime.

The corruption of the democratic system is even greater — a perversion of law and equal treatment — meaning, as it does, favor to special groups, and funds not used as intended by law.

Significantly, the House Judiciary Committee did not seriously consider charging Richard Nixon with illegally diverting millions of government dollars for such political purposes. Yet that committee has in its files documentary evidence of White House directed diversion on a major scale.

This reporter has a copy of one of these file documents. In it, Fred Malek, now deputy director of the Office of Management and the Budget, estimated the loose change available for diversion to target groups to help secure support for the President's re-election to be $1.4 billion. The time available (seven months) and the need for secrecy would, Malek calculated, make possible the effective "redirection" of only a small fraction of that amount in the 1972 campaign.

The committee did not recommend impeachment on these grounds. The reason is obvious; everyone does it. It is no secret that more often than not big military and other government spending has gone to the areas represented by men high on key committees in Congress. The money favors individuals and groups who could sway voters in the re-election of these senators and representatives. When consciously done for political purposes, this channeling or diversion of funds and favors is clearly illegal. But the pot does not dare call the kettle black, even when documentary evidence exists.

The material at hand is to the point, a memorandum for H.R. Haldeman from Fred Malek, on "Departmental Responsiveness" dated March 17, 1972 on White House stationery. The attached document, marked "extremely sensitive" is titled "Increasing the Responsiveness of the Executive Branch."

Malek proposed he and his staff would coordinate the departmental plans in this "grantsmanship" operation, along with Casper (Cap) Weinberger, then on the White House staff and now secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. They would ensure that each department effectively fulfilled its quota.

As a first step, Malek went on, the departments should be given clear guidelines covering political priorities. These would be spelled out in terms of key states and major voting block groups on which departmental action could have an impact.

Malek listed both positive and negative decisions to be covered under this program. In the first group were: grants, contracts, loans, subsidies, procurement and construction projects. The negative actions were: taking legal or regulatory action against a group or government body, major cutbacks in programs and relocation of departmental operations.

This diversion of funds for political purposes also goes on regularly and systematically in the Senate and House of Representatives, in state capitols, in county boards of supervisors and in city councils. Only the most determined citizen effort will bring relief.

Barbs

Early to bed and early to rise means the dog wants out at 2 a.m.

Counting chickens before they're hatched is strictly for optimists.

April showers brought May flowers which will pollinate and bring June hay fever.

Some retired types spend more time in the shop than when they were working here.

What goes best with a patterned marmalade tie is maranara sauce.

There's nothing like a pipeful of good tobacco to make you realize just what you've been smoking.

"Remember last winter, when people used to honk at you for going OVER 55 miles an hour?"

90 adult education courses planned for fall

By GEORGE MACLAREN
P-B Staff Writer

The Claremont Unified School District will widen its horizons in adult education this fall and sample the community's desire for learning with at least 90 course offerings.

Since school dismissed in June, Charles Freitas has been surveying the citizens as to their desires and teachers as to what they think would make attractive subjects.

Freitas, the district's first dean of adult education, doesn't think that all the courses offered can be staffed or will have sufficient enrollment. He will suggest to the school board new courses during the year as requests are made.

Freitas said that the adult education program will not be exclusively held at night, but anytime in the day when at least 20 persons express a desire for a particular subject.

Courses will not only be taught at the district schools, but in retirement centers and to shut-ins.

Freitas, who has been with the district since 1966 as a teacher and a coach, believes the change in emphasis from an education for those five to 18 to the entire community is greatly needed.

"The board's commitment has been to serve the entire district, and board members have seen the need to expand the educational program to all," he said.

He believes that not enough emphasis had been made in the field of adult education, although classes previously offered were well-attended.

Some areas of the community have been unable to take advantage of classes, such as the retirement centers or shut-ins, so the adult education program will be taken to them, he reported.

Freitas said the program will include limited academic subjects because of the colleges being here.

Courses offered in the past included oil painting, beginning fabric design, the Claremont Symphony Orchestra, rug making, conversational French, German, and Spanish, crewel embroidery, living in later life: coping with grandfather time, problems of the aging, weaving, and helping young children to read.

New course offerings which will be mailed to residents will include subjects under broad categories such as academics, arts-crafts-music, business education, community services, family education, homemaking, and vocational.

Students can learn about American criminal law, the Middle East, ocean management, speed reading, poetry, jewelry, picture framing, income tax preparation, aide training for the elderly sick, aviation ground school, auto maintenance for men and women, teacher aide training, family cooking with a budget, home canning, sports officiating, or improving child-adult relationships.

The city is close to mountains and beaches, so the district is offering wilderness training and underwater survival training, such as scuba diving.

The expanded adult education program will help the district because of its declining enrollment. Classrooms empty during the day can be used for such subjects as creative writing for mature adults, or political nostalgia in the 20th Century.

The district will receive state money for the program through average daily attendance.

Freitas doesn't expect the classes will overlap with those offered by the city Parks and Recreation Department.

The school board has given the proposed program its overwhelming support, has approved 23 teachers for classes, and probably will approve many more at its Sept. 3 meeting.

The program is very inexpensive to the student: $2 a course, plus a charge for necessary books and materials.

A NEW LOOK — Four stewardesses leave one of United Air Lines jetliners which bears a new contemporary corporate symbol, logo and exterior color scheme. The plane recently landed at Ontario International Airport. The women are, from left, Carolyn Helyey, Joan Forest and Mel Hall, all of Seattle, and Kathy Karp, Chicago. As part of a move to modernize its visual identification, United has changed the word "airlines" in its name and logo from two words, (Air Lines) to one word, (Airlines). The changeover is now in progress.

12 women coach positions approved

Girls sports will be coming into its own at Claremont High School during the coming school year as a result of the Claremont Unified School District board's approving establishment of 12 coaching positions in eight sports.

The past year, head coach Shirley Wright and assistant coach Madra Flaherty shared responsibilities in fielding teams for competition in the San Antonio League (SAL) in badminton, field hockey, basketball, volleyball, tennis and softball.

A girls track club headed by volunteer coach Richard Ede competed in meets.

The two coaching positions which paid $850 have been expanded to 12 with a total salary of $4,600 for head coaches at $400 each for SAL gymnastics, badminton, field hockey, basketball, volleyball, tennis, softball and track.

Junior varsity coaches will be hired at $350 each for field hockey, volleyball, basketball and softball.

Salaries for the girls sports program were set after a meeting of Ron Meyer, assistant principal for operations and business services, athletic director Steve Lambert, and the two women coaches using salary schedules of other districts for a guide.

Meyer noted that salaries are lower than those of boys sports because it is anticipated that there will be fewer students participating, less competition during the first year of an expanded program, and the sports will occupy only a fourth of a year instead of the normal boys third of a year schedule.

The board also approved the assignment of an athletic advisor at $250 to counsel athletes having difficulty maintaining proper grades. The CIF rule is that a student in athletics must have passing grades in at least four subjects in the prior semester, and be still passing in four in the current semester.

A picnic and barbecue preceded the ceremony, which was supervised by Scoutmaster Art Schneyer. Boys and their parents participated in a tug-of-war, sack races, three-legged races, Frisbee tosses and bubblegum blowing contests.

Those who received rank advancements were Ron Pierce, Mark Waldron, Davie Hill, John Deaton, Tim Krug, David Johnson and Steve Pierce.

Merit badges were awarded to John Deaton, Jon Cavener, David Hill, David Johnson, Tim Krug, Steve Johnson, Mike Leitch, Todd Schneyer, Mark Waldron, Tim Witten, Steve Johnson, Steve Pierce, John Mello, Ed Mello, Rick Van Korlaar, Tim Krug and Robert Zunde.

Skill awards were presented to Jon Cavener, Kent Blair, John Deaton, David Johnson, Tim Krug, Ed Mello and Ron

Continued until its Sept. 3 meeting adoption of a resolution declaring the district's intention to sell the Garey Avenue site.

—Awarded to Atlas Curbing Co. Inc. a $7,936 contract for realignment and coating of the Claremont High School parking lot during August.

—Approved agreements for district use of the Seaver Computer Center at Pomona College and the data center at Citrus College.

—Approved a district agreement with Baldy View Regional Occupational Program for administration of an occupational interest survey to 10th graders before Dec. 1, 1974.

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Officer Frank Tealdi said he found at the rear of the building an 18-inch pipe stuffed with black powder. Next to it, he said, was the burnt out cigarette.

Bomb try fizzles as cigarette dies

BURLINGAME (UPI) — A pipe bomb which failed to explode because a lighted cigarette applied to the fuse went out was found Tuesday in General Motors offices here.

A telephone operator relayed to police a caller's warning: "This is the Voice of America and a bomb is set to go off in the General Motors plant in Burlingame."

Patio Theater sets 15th Air Force Band

The 15th Air Force Band of March Air Force Base, Riverside, and the Pomona Valley chapter of Sweet Adelines will be the performers on the last program of the season Tuesday night at the Montclair Starlite Patio Theater.

The summer programs are offered by the city's department of recreation in the Montclair Civic Center. All shows are admission free and begin at 8 p.m.

The band, directed by Capt. Ronald W. Carl, will play a repertoire ranging from popular to symphonic band literature.

Louis Whitney of Covina will direct the 56-member all-girl chorus. Two quartets within the group, "The Sounds of Harmony" and "The Norse Winds," both award-winning performance groups, will be featured in separate tunes.

Intermission soloist will be Marietta De Armand of San Bernardino.

Not the case

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Many companies are turning down disabled job hunters because they imagine falsely that would raise their employee compensation insurance rates, according to Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner Herbert Denenberg.

"This is not the case," Denenberg said. "Hiring handicapped persons doesn't affect compensation insurance rates in the least."

NEW TREND IN BLACK FILMS — It's business as usual when Isaac Hayes, left, as Truck Turner, shoves a pool ball in his opponent's mouth, a typical scene from this blood-and-guts film. In another movie, right, Bill Cosby and Sidney Poitier laugh it up in a scene from "Uptown Saturday Night." Films of the "Truck Turner" and "Superfly" genre are losing their audiences to family type films with black actors.

Showbeat

Please don't call them 'black pictures'

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Don't call them "black pictures" anymore.

Call them, if you have to call them something, "movies with black actors."

They've changed, that's why Hollywood's black community takes a dim view of that catch-all phrase, "black pictures." Those words conjure up a vision of super-brother, the big black man out to bust heads and the swivelled black chick who hasn't got a moral to her name.

They're still making that kind of film, of course. "Three the Hard Way" is a current release right out of that mold, the direct descendant of films like "Shaft" and "Super Fly," films which set a trend that's tough to bust.

But it is being busted, because the blacks in Hollywood and around the country didn't like the picture those films painted of blacks and black life.

The old-style films—Variety calls them "blaxploitation" pictures—are being replaced by the newer type but they are being augmented by them. It all began with "Sounder," which showed that blacks (and, to some extent, the white audience, too) would buy tickets to see something better.

Now they're coming out at an increasing rate. There was "Five on the Black Hand Side" and "Claudine" and "Uptown Saturday Night" and more are on the way.

These are family-style films, films which just happen to have blacks in the cast but could just as easily concern Indians or Jews or any other minority. And families are going to see them in droves.

"Our picture is enormous in the three locations where it has opened," says Mel Tucker, who made "Uptown Saturday Night."

Tucker says that his film which has a supercast headed by Sidney Poitier, Bill Cosby, Harry Belafonte, Flip Wilson and Richard Pryor, is aimed at an intergraded audience.

"It would be very unfair," he says, "to call this a 'black picture.' I never heard anybody call a film a 'white picture.'

And the whites, he says, are going to see it. On the other hand, Joyce Selznick, one of the all-female team who made "Caludine," isn't so sure.

"The jury is still out," she says, "one whether the white audience will go to see a film with a black cast. If it's shown in a white neighborhood, yes, they will. But if it's shown in a black neighborhood, it's still touch and go."

Miss Selznick adds, however, that "Caludine" is making a lot of money—in black situations. She attributes its success to the fact that "blacks want real entertainment, they want love stories, they want family fare."

And yet, as one black community leader here puts it, "there is a dichotomy among blacks—they make speeches putting down black exploitation films and yet they line up around the block to see them."

He adds that there is a feeling that the "Supper Fly"-type of film has had a bad effect on young blacks. Suggesting that criminals or at least law-breakers are heroes and some claim these films have given impetus to the rise in the crime rate among young blacks.

"They put them down but they still want to see them."

And, naturally, Hollywood keeps making anything the people will pay money to see, white or black. Fred Weintraub, co-producer of "Black Belt Jones" and "Truck Turner" and the upcoming "Black Mass," says his pictures serve a function.

"They like action," he says. "The black action market is part of the total black market and it's going to stay. It's appealing that the black people want to know about their own community and they want heroes."

This naturally limits them. It is doubtful if we will see, for any foreseeable time, a major black film. We will have to be content with what we are getting today.

Still, despite all the problems, the clear fact is that current black movies are headed in a new direction.

There are the family films, such as "Uptown Saturday Night." There are black horror films, such as the soon-to-be-released "House on Skull Mountain." There are black comedies and black love stories and other sorts of films, in which the characters could easily be interchanged with whites.

Another problem producers of films with black audiences face is the limited appeal these films have overseas, particularly in Europe. Traditionally, foreign sales represent roughly one-half of Hollywood film's income so if that area is cancelled out, these films obviously cannot cost as much.

This naturally limits them. It is doubtful if we will see, for any foreseeable time, a major black film. We will have to be content with what we are getting today.

Still, despite all the problems, the clear fact is that current black movies are headed in a new direction.

There are the family films, such as "Uptown Saturday Night." There are black horror films, such as the soon-to-be-released "House on Skull Mountain." There are black comedies and black love stories and other sorts of films, in which the characters could easily be interchanged with whites.

Progress-Bulletin Entertainment

Expensive spice

Saffron is the most expensive of all spices. It is the stigma of a purple-flowered crocus and when dried, develops its deep orange color and ar-

A SCANDAL EVEN IN DENMARK

GRANADA
303 N. EUCLID, ONT. 983-4710
BRUCE BROWN'S
"ON ANY SUNDAY"
Weekdays 6:00, 8:00, 10:00
SAT. & SUN.
2:00, 4:00, 6:00, 8:00
10:00

Montclair Theatre
624-9696
4377 Holt Blvd.
BIG ISLAND ADVENTURE!
WALT DISNEY PRODUCTIONS
THE CASTAWAY COWBOY

WED. 7:00, 10:20
Thurs-Tues
2:00, 5:30, 9:00
PLUS THIS HILARIOUS COMEDY

Walt Disney's
Absent-minded Professor
Wed. 8:40
Thurs-Tues
3:40, 7:10, 10:40

GENE HARVEY THEATRES
LOW PRICES AT BOTH THEATRES
ADMISSION $1.00
CHILDREN 50¢

The Golden Voyage of Sinbad
in Dunesrama
WEEKDAYS 7:45
WED. & THURS. 8:30 ONLY
FRI. THRU TUES. 1:30, 5:00, 8:30
— ALSO —
250 LBS. OF LOVABLE FUN!

"GEORGE"
WED. & THURS. 8:30 & 10:30
FRI. THRU TUES. 3:20, 7:00, 10:30

GROVE
UPLAND
724-9150
447-1347

CANYON
CANTON SHOPPING CENTER
Santa Ave. SAN DIMAS 599-7244

ORIGINAL UNCUT UNCENSORED

DEEP THROAT
SHOWN AT: 1:00, 3:30, 5:35, 8:00, 10:15
ALSO: "DEVIL IN MISS JONES"

SHOWN AT: 2:10, 4:25, 6:45, 9:10, FRI. & SAT. 11:20
X-RATED • NO ONE UNDER 18
SEE BOTH IN A FULL SIZE MODERN THEATRE

ROWLAND HEIGHTS THEATRE
18347 Colima Rd., Rowland Hts., Pomona
Frwy. (40) to Fullerton Rd., Exit 1 blk. So.
PH. (213) 964-0067

VALLEY DRIVE-IN THEATRE
OPEN AT 7:00
SHOW AT 8:00
MONTCLAIR - 626-7511
HOLT AT CENTRAL

THE ALL NEW AND EXCITING ADVENTURE SPECTACULAR! — PLUS — "BEYOND ATLANTIS"

The Golden Voyage of Sinbad in Dunesrama
OPEN AT 7:00
SHOW STARTS AT 8:15

WALT DISNEY THE PRODUCTIONS CASTAWAY COWBOY
— PLUS — TECHNICOLOR

MISSION
POMONA - 626-0511
MISSION AT RAMONA

MANN THEATRES
BOX OFFICE OPENS AT 1:45

BUTCH & THE KID ARE BACK!
Just for the fun of it!
"BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID"

Shown at
3:20-7-10-10:30
— PLUS —
HEART BREAK KID
1:30-5:15-9:00

FOX POMONA
623-3643

BOX OFFICE OPENS AT 7:30
SHOW STARTS AT DUSK
THE PARALLAX VIEW (R)
— PLUS —
STRAW DOGS

Mt. Baldy Drive-In
1050 WEST LA VINA
593-0343

BOX OFFICE OPENS AT 7:30
SHOW STARTS AT DUSK
ON ANY SUNDAY
Shown at 2:00-4:00-6:00-8:00-10:00
— PLUS —
Added Action
BIG SURF

111 N. EUSTACE
CARMEL BY THE SEA
624-2112

Chocolate Vanilla
TONY'S, JR.
1735 Indian Hill Pomona

SPECIAL
Tues., Wed. & Thurs.

PRIME RIB
CHICKEN IN THE POT

$4.25
COMPLETE DINNER

CANDLELITE
INN

4210 E. Holt 621-1314

NOW APPEARING NIGHTLY
THRU AUGUST 17th

RETURNING
"KIMO KENE & Co."

Wednesday Night is Ladies Night
75c on all house brands

Elli's FORUM

5074 Holt, Montclair

Closed Sunday

CHILI DOG
CONEY DAY EVERY TUESDAY!

25¢

Delicious Chile

Dog Topped with

Freshly diced Onion

A&W

It's a good thing to do

POMONA

560 E. Holt
622-2282

SUN FILM GROUP

RITZ

101 N. Euclid
Ontario
624-0112

FINE ARTS 480 N. P. St.
DEEP THROAT - THE DEVIL IN MISS JONES

111 N. EUSTACE
CARMEL BY THE SEA
624-2112

MILLAGE

111 N. EUSTACE
CARMEL BY THE SEA
624-2112

1/3 OFF ON LUNCH & DINNER BUFFET

PLUS ONE FREE LINE OF BOWLING

What a SWEETHEART

OF A DEAL

LUNCH & DINNER Mon.-Fri.

PRIME RIB
$3.25

The Bowlim

CORAL REEF

DINING ROOM & COFFEE SHOPPE

4666 Holt Blvd., Montclair
714-624-9351

GENERAL CINEMA CORPORATION

zanybarbra.

I "For Pete's Sake!"

PG

TATE - Show 1:00-2:00-4:15-10:15

GATSBY - Show 1:00-2:00-4:15-10:15

MONTCLAIR PLAZA

624-3534

4955 SO. PLAZA LANE MONTCLAIR

SAN BERNARDINO-F.W.Y. or MONTE VISTA

BOTH CINEMAS BARGAIN MATINEE

EVERY DAY TIL 2:30 PM ALL SEATS $1.25

Rattles & strawsDon't bawl over the ball

By JOSEPH FIRMAN

Women are like golfballs.
(We will have a 60-second interlude to reflect on this profound philosophical observation.)

Like women, a golf ball is a thing of beauty and a joy forever — or at least until your slice takes over and you send your little sweetheart curling off into the middle of the water hazard. Like many women (not YOU, of course), a golf ball is unpredictable, inconsistent, erratic and headstrong. A nifty Kro-Flite, properly addressed, struck smartly with a 6-iron, rises 130 feet in the air and plunks down 10 feet from you. It's like striking out on a date.

You are much happier when your next swing catches the sweet part and the dimpled darling goes soaring off straight down the fairway, but you are exasperated, too. Why couldn't the fickle creature have done that the FIRST time?

A good golfer takes care of his Titleists and Maxflis. He cleans them, wipes them off tenderly, stows them in a comfortable pouch in his golf bag. But golf balls are ingrates. Sometimes you can't tell the ball from the bag. Your drives hook into the forest primeval; your wedge shots bury themselves like ostriches in the sand of the bunker.

Don't ever take a golf ball — or a woman — for granted. They have minds of their own, and if their aims differ from your aim, you'll spend a lot of time searching through the underbrush.

A golfer talks to the ball the way he talks to his wife, especially on the green, faced with a 20-foot putt. First he murmurs terms of endearment, pleading, cajoling, possibly whispering if the putt is for a birdie or a buck. It's a combination love song and prayer.

When the ball speeds straight across the green, breaks nicely toward the hole, rolls closer — and lips the cup! — The air is filled with explosive religious phrases familiar to any wife who has brought home the new car with only three fenders.

In spite of your impassioned entreaties, your protestations of undying love, your anguished prayers, the little golf ball will go where she happens to feel like on any particular shot.

Golf balls and women — when they will, they will; when they won't, they won't.

Expires in '75Extension of Voting Rights Act up in air

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It is an open question whether the Justice Department will ask Congress next year for another extension of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, a legislative milestone of the Johnson administration under which thousands of Southern blacks have been enfranchised.

"One of our major projects this year will be to analyze and decide whether to recommend to the attorney general that the Voting Rights Act be extended, enlarged or modified," said James P. Turner, deputy assistant attorney general in charge of voting rights enforcement.

Turner refused to say which recommendation Attorney General William B. Saxbe is most likely to receive for his final decision, but he made clear that one option would be simply to let the law expire.

Turner characterized the law as an "extraordinary remedy for an extraordinary problem" in the South in the 1960s when only 7 per cent of voting-age blacks in Mississippi were registered.

"We were having to litigate with individual county registrars, obtain injunctions, the case would be appealed and maybe in two or three years get five or 10 people registered," he said in an interview.

"Then they would go back to using a different system, some different type of device, so the record in 1965 was total exclusion and continual frustration."

Today, Turner said, voluntary compliance is the overwhelming rule, and he sees little danger of backsliding by local voting officials if the law were to die. "I am pretty optimistic they would not," he said.

Enacted nine years ago and extended in modified form in 1970, the law empowers the attorney general to dispatch federal voter registrars and polling observers in designated areas, outlaws literacy and position will be determinative. We had to get the law extended (in 1970) over the opposition of then Attorney General Mr. (John N.) Mitchell."

A source on the House Judiciary Committee said the panel definitely will propose

Anti-war theme expanded*Vets now fight imperialism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A little more than three years ago, some 700 veterans of the Vietnam war, many of them highly decorated, passed by the U.S. Capitol and pitched their medals over a wire fence.

It was one of the most dramatic and emotional antiwar actions ever mounted by opponents of Vietnam and it put VVAW into the headlines and into the leadership of the antiwar forces.

There have been a lot of changes since then but the organization, which leaders claim has around 25,000 members, remains one of the few groups derived from the antiwar movement that can still mount a disciplined, national demonstration.

Three years ago, when 27-year old former Navy lieutenant John Kerry was a national coordinator and organizer of Dewey Canyon III — The VVAW's week-long encampment on the mall below the U.S. Capitol — the group was restricted to Vietnam veterans and was organized solely around ending the U.S. involvement in Indochina.

Within a year after that operation, Kerry had resigned as national coordinator to run for Congress as a Democrat from Massachusetts.

VVAW went the other direction, deepening its militancy, broadening its politics and ultimately opening its ranks to all of the "winter soldiers" seeking radical social change in America and a fundamental shift in American foreign policy.

Indeed, the organization now calls itself "Vietnam Veterans Against the War-Winter Soldier Organization," a reference to early American patriot Tom Paine's lines from "The American Crisis":

"The summer soldier will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of every man and woman."

"We feel that the term 'winter soldier' applies to everyone who resisted and continues to resist," said Marla Watson, one of the six national coordinators working out the groups' Chicago headquarters.

"The winter soldier is the one that sticks it through the whole struggle."

The organization's name was changed in April, 1973, she said, and is now open to "anyone who believes in the objectives of the organization — the complete right to self-determination and liberation of the Indochinese people, total and unconditional amnesty, an end to racism and sexism, increases in veterans and GI rights."

In 1971, when VVAW first came to public attention, she said, "it was speaking solely around the 'stop the war' theme. Since then a real strong anti-imperialist consciousness has developed in the organization."

That means that the group opposes continued U.S. support of repressive or tyrannical regimes as well as economic exploitation of the developing countries.

"As the organization grew," its literature says, "we came to realize that the Indochina war was something more than just a mistake, that it was a conscious act of the U.S. government to maintain the ability of U.S. business to exploit the people of Indochina and the world . . ."

The group's leadership role in the antiwar and white radical movement was most clearly demonstrated during the demonstrations at the 1972 Republican convention in Miami Beach.

The demonstrations, organized by a coalition of antiwar groups, threatened to be ragged and chaotic. But VVAW, with its flair for theater and the dramatic, arrived in one long cavalcade, its several hundred members and supporters circling the demonstrators encampment amid cheers and even tears that lifted wailing spirits and put discipline into the action.

Its most recent national demonstration, however, firmly demonstrated that most of the summer soldiers have fled the movement for radical change.

Early in July, VVAW-WSO came to Washington for four days of demonstrations organized around amnesty, implementation of the Paris peace accords, decent benefits for veterans, a single-type discharge for all veterans and

A lot more must be done between now and 1976, she said.

The Orlando meeting also will be concerned with a lot of other things, with improving the long range outlook for tourism in many parts of the country.

It will be a two-way selling effort. European and Asian tourist people will be in Orlando seeking to reverse the decline in American travel abroad caused by this year's inflation.

"It probably never can be entirely closed. The increasing American interest in traveling to the communist countries alone could defeat that, but we should get foreigners to spend much more than the estimated $3.2 billion they paid out on touring the United States last year.

A massive search undertaken by sheriff's deputies and volunteers has failed to turn up any trace of the girl.

an extension no matter what Saxbe proposes.

By last August, the attorney general had reviewed 3,799 proposals for such local changes as qualifications for or abolishing political offices, time and place of registration, annexation, redistricting, and switches to at-large elections or open primaries.

Of these, he has approved 165 proposals on the ground of an intent or effect of discrimination.

The Supreme Court ruled in 1969 that the law covered any kind of change, no matter how small.

"That meant the slightest little annexation, the slightest polling place change," Turner said.

"We decide those things every day. We are kind of reluctant bureaucrats. We don't like to stick our long federal nose into things like that but the law requires it and, of course, we do it."

3 youths held in car death

LATHROP (UPI) — Three teen-aged youths were held Wednesday on suspicion of murder in the death of a young man who ran down by a car.

San Joaquin County sheriff's deputies took into custody Mason Chamblin, 18, of French Camp, and two other youths, 16 and 17.

A car travelling at high speed swerved and struck Joe Fuentes as he walked along a road near Lathrop following a fight, deputies said.

Fuentes, 20, died later at the San Joaquin County Hospital.

Reward posted for missing girl info

LANCASTER (UPI) — Eastside ranchers and businessmen have posted a $2,500 reward for information leading to the "whereabouts or return" of missing LaNelle Carson, 9, who disappeared from her family's mobile home July 28.

A massive search undertaken by sheriff's deputies and volunteers has failed to turn up any trace of the girl.

Quality AUTO PAINTING
Since 1937
ANY CAR FOR ONLY
$39.95

COMPLETE BODY & FENDER REPAIR
Earl Scheib
WORLD'S LARGEST AUTO PAINTER
STILL AMERICA'S BIGGEST BARGAIN!
805 West Holt Ave., Pomona
Phone 622-1555
10937 Central Ave., Montclair
Phone 658-5299

Espiau's Restaurante y Cantina

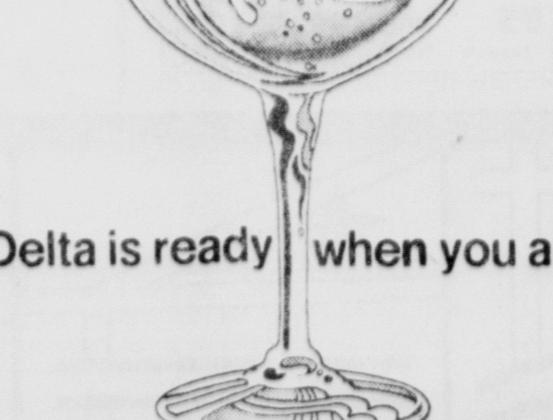

OPEN DAILY 11:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M.
Our Savory Mexican Food and Extra Special Margaritas are often Copied, but never Duplicated!

EVERY MON., TUES. & WED.
Wine included with complete dinners.
Credit Cards Accepted Food To Go
Cantina Open 9:30 A.M.
1542 W. Holt Ave. * Pomona * 629-5417

Delta is ready when you are.

Delta is ready when you are.

Delta is ready when you are.

ON LUCK RESTAURANT
CHINESE-CANTONESE FOOD
EAT IN OR TAKE OUT
LUNCH & DINNER
1685 N. INDIAN HILL
POMONA • 626-6161

DENTAL PLATES

COMPLETE FAMILY DENTISTRY
Repairs & Relines
White You Wait Credit Available

DR. G.T. CARDIFF

Open Daily 9 'til 6
850 N. Indian Hill Blvd., Pomona - 626-3541

These low prices effective 9 a.m. Monday, August 12 thru 8 p.m. Saturday, August 17 prices effective in Chino Warehouse Store only store hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-9, Sat. 9-8, Closed Sun.

limited to stock on hand

CLEARANCE

SAVE 3.11

junior tops

- ass't. styles and colors
- cool summer varieties

2.88

our everyday low price 5.99

SAVE 3.05

FAMOUS MAKER

2.99

men's jeans

- blue or brown plaid
- slightly fuller cut for extra comfort
- sizes 36 to 42 — broken sizes
- easy care, wash 'n wear
- first quality merchandise manufacturer's suggested retail 14.00

our everyday low price 5.99

2.94

peasant tops

- cotton knit jacquard
- short puffed sleeves
- sizes S/M/L
- black/white or red/white

SAVE TO 2.55

1.94

girls' shorts

- wide ass't. of prints
- some famous makers

our everyday low price to 4.49

SAVE 11.96

9.99

presto pool

- 8' x 20' size
- just add water
- no assembly
- inflatable top ring for added safety

our everyday low price 21.95

1.50

5 gal. water carrier

- lightweight
- heavy duty plastic

our everyday low price 3.49

danielson "go getter" fishing jigs

our everyday low price 13c

7c

four player badminton set

our everyday low price 7.99

3.99

trailblazer jumbo 16.4 oz.

propane tank

our everyday low price 1.29

96c

POMONA FREEWAY AT RESERVOIR

1 BLOCK NORTH OF FREEWAY

1 BLOCK EAST OF RESERVOIR

100% GUARANTEED

100% SATISFACTION</p

Trevino turns back into 'Merry Mex'

CLEMMONS, N.C. (UPI) — Almost exactly a month after he said he was over-golfed and in need of a two-year rest from the tour, Lee Trevino Sunday won his first PGA championship and looked for new horizons to conquer.

His game in tatters and his morale at a low ebb after an opening round 79 in last month's British Open, Trevino said he needed a long rest.

But, instead, he returned to the tour and Sunday shot a one-under-par 69 for a 72-hole total of 276 and a one stroke victory over defending PGA champion Jack Nicklaus.

South African Bobby Coie, who shared the lead after 62 holes, ran into trouble on the back nine, shot a 71 for 279 to be tied by Sam Snead, 68; Dave Hill 69, and Hubie Green, 70.

Trevino, whose only previous 1974 victory was in the New Orleans Open in March, swelled his 1974 winnings to $166,886 with the PGA's $45,000. Nicklaus earned $25,700, while the four-way tie for third was worth $10,856 to each man.

"I'll be back at Augusta next year if they'll have me," quipped the 35-year-old Texan from El Paso. "Now that I've won three of the big ones, I must give myself a chance at the fourth."

Trevino has an intense dislike for the Augusta National course which, he insists, does not suit his game, but Nicklaus said, "he can play any course in the world."

Merry Mex, as Trevino is when he's on his game, said he'd also show up at Akron Ohio, for the World Series of Golf. "I'll collect my $5,000 (last place) and leave," he said amid roars of laughter.

The World Series brings together the Big Four winners of the year but Trevino never has performed well at Akron because Firestone is another of the courses he dislikes.

Sunday Trevino withstood Nicklaus' challenge by driving down the middle and getting inside his rival most times they arrived at the green.

"I played attacking golf," said Trevino although he posted only two birdies against a single bogey. "I went for the flag and if I'd putted reasonably it would have been over on the front nine."

Trevino dropped putts of eight and 20 feet for birds at the first and ninth holes, but he three-putted the 17th from 30 feet and saw his lead reduced to one over Nicklaus.

He kept his nerves under control, however, arrived safely at the 72nd hole and left himself a putt of 18 inches for his par.

"I know I should have waited, but I asked Jack and Hubie (Green) if I could putt out. There was no way I could stand around and wait for them to finish."

"Then I was nervous." Trevino credited Nicklaus for lifting his game. "Being paired with him raised my game, but I did hit the ball the best I've done this year."

Ironically, it was Trevino who stopped Nicklaus' victory march in the 1971 U.S. Open, which he won in a playoff, and in the British Open the following year when he won to stop Nicklaus' bid for a Grand Slam of the big four titles in one year.

Trevino said he will still cut down on his 1975 schedule, but his PGA victory — to go with two wins in the U.S. and British Opens — means he'll have to play another two tournaments this year — the World Series and the World Cup in Venezuela where he'll represent the United States with Hale Irwin.

Nicklaus paid tribute to Trevino and said he had played better on the day, "but I was pleased with the way I played. It was the best I've done all year."

His failure to win a major championship for only the fourth time in 13 years means Nicklaus will miss the World Series and he's not too happy about that.

"I can't say I'll be too happy to be home that weekend," said Nicklaus. "But life will go on."

Nicklaus did not make any putts of any consequence and that was why he failed to catch Trevino. He had two 15-footers at the third and fourth and a 10-footer at the 13th, but he had three putt greens at the third and 13th.

Although Cole challenged during an up-and-down round in which he made only five pars, it was really a straight fight between Trevino and Nicklaus.

Cole lost a chance of finishing alone in third place when he finished bogey-double bogey-par. At the 17th he whiffed when under a tree and that amateurish shot cost him over $6,000 in prize money.

Gary Player, who won the Masters and British Open earlier in the year, shot an even par 70 for 280, while Al Geiberger had the low round of the day, a 66, for 281.

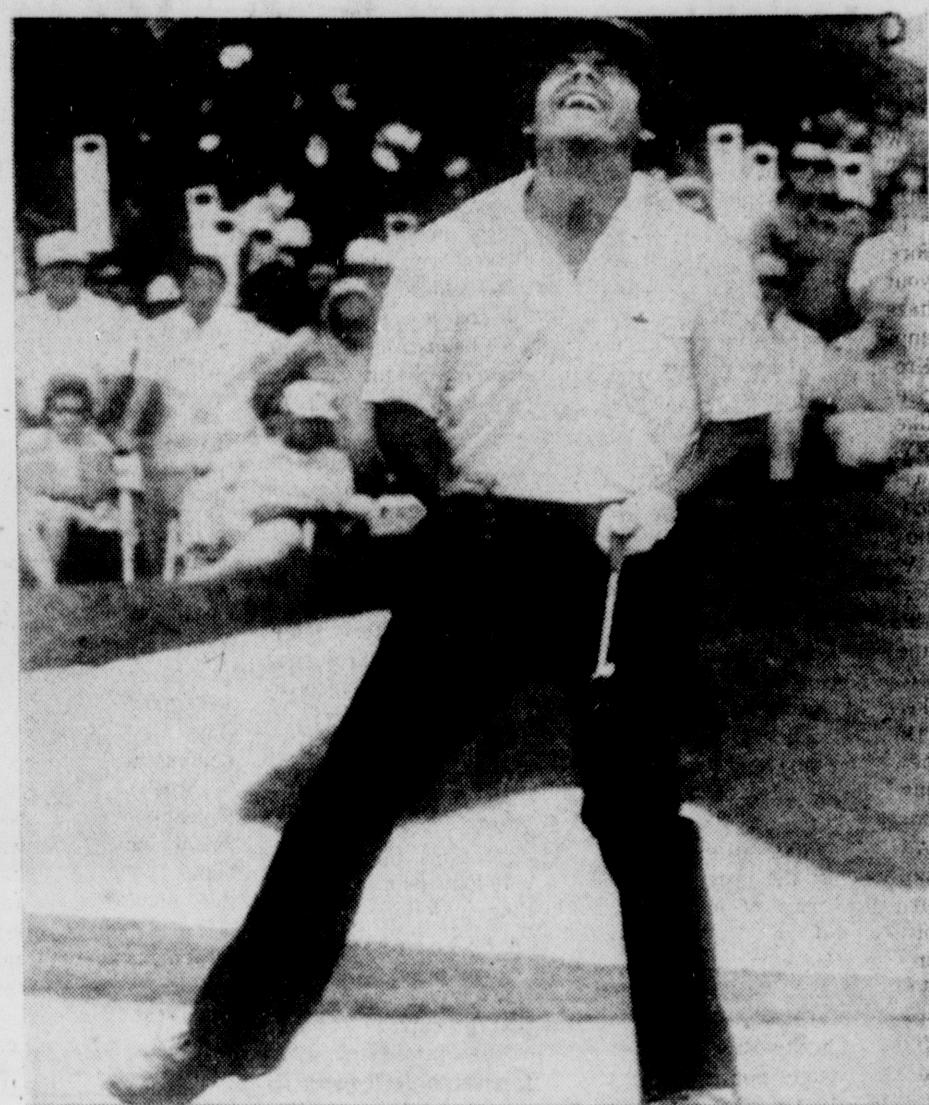

Photo by United Press

OH YEA!

Lee Trevino reacts to his birdie putt on the ninth green Sunday in the PGA Championship.

Lee's birdie put him five-under-par for the lead. He won by one stroke over Jack Nicklaus.

Angel fans get both good news, bad news

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

ANAHEIM — There was good news and bad news for Angel fans as the club prepares to take on the Eastern Division leading Boston Red Sox tonight.

For at least the next two weeks, the owners seem to be spared the loss of gate receipts brought on by low attendance at pre-season games. But the development probably has put them in the position of having to make a counter gesture when bargaining resumes.

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

"The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

The position of the rookies and free agents who have been in camp was up in the air. With the return of the striking regulars, many of them were facing the possibility of being cut.

The decision does, of course, have ramifications for the rookies and veterans who have been in our camps," John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, said in New York Sunday, "and that's something we will have to review with our committee and our clubs as quickly as possible, before making further comment."

Major league boxscores

American League

Yankees 5, Angels 4

	ab	r	h	bb	bi	ab	r	h	bb	bi
New York	3	1	1	0	0	3	1	1	0	0
Abdoox cf	3	1	1	0	0	3	1	1	0	0
Hughes rf	3	1	1	0	0	3	1	1	0	0
Bonham dh	3	0	1	0	0	3	0	1	0	0
Pringle 1b	4	1	2	0	0	4	1	2	0	0
Chamie 1b	4	1	1	0	0	4	1	1	0	0
Kettles 3b	4	1	1	0	0	4	1	1	0	0
Alman c	4	1	1	0	0	4	1	1	0	0
Adams c	4	1	1	0	0	4	1	1	0	0
Tidrow p	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Martinez p	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Unshew p	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Wells p	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Total	37	5	10	5	0	33	5	10	5	0
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	9	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0
Lockwood 0
Total	35	3	9	3	0	30	2	10	9	1
New York	37	5	10	5	0	32	0	11	10	0
California	30	0	11	10	2	30	0	11	10	2
Montreal, Mod. DP-New York 1.
LOR-New York 7, California 10, New York 1.
2B-Bonham. 3B-Rivers. HR-Pinella (6).
Tidrow W 9-9
McKeez 6
Unshew 6
Lange 3-8
Unshew 6
Finn 0

DIGGING IN — Jimmy Connors turns around and digs in to make a sensational return against Manuel Orantes Sunday in the U.S. Clay Courts Tennis Tourney. He defeated Orantes, 6-4, 6-3.

Photo by United Press

Laver going out a winner

BRETT WOODS, N.H. (UPI) — Australian Rod Laver says he likes to go out a winner, and his victory in the $50,000 Volvo International Tennis Tournament Sunday won't alter his decision to drop off the pro tennis circuit until next January.

Laver, who celebrated his 36th birthday last week, defeated Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., 6-4, 6-3, to grab the first prize of $9,000 plus a new automobile valued at $7,000.

The red-haired lefthander, the all-time leading money-winner in tennis, also split $2,400 for winning the doubles with Jeff Borowski of Berkeley, Calif. They beat French Davis Cuppers Francois Jauffret and Georges Govet, 6-3, 6-2.

"I made up my mind before the week started that this would be my last tournament of the year, win or lose," said Laver, who was coming off an 11-week layoff but feels he wants more time off with his family at their home in Corona Del Mar, Calif.

"I'm glad to be able to end the year on a bright note. When I go back fresh on the World Championship Tennis circuit at the beginning of next year, I'll be thinking, 'I want to pick up where I left off in Bretton Woods.'"

"I wish Rod would retire. All the young guys do — it would be better for us financially," joked Solomon, the 21-year-old U.S. Davis Cupper who is one of the best American players on clay.

"He was just too tough. I've never seen anybody hit the lines as often as he did in the first set," said Solomon, who has been enjoying the hottest streak of his two-year pro career in recent weeks.

Solomon earned $4,600 and the runner-up's share of $9,000 points in the Commercial Union Grand Prix of tennis. He moved up to cash bonuses to the top 30 finishers in season-long point standings.

Laver's victory at Mount Washington Hotel was his 11th in a row. He won six matches to take the $30,000 top prize in the Alan King Classic at Las Vegas in May, took his 11-week break to conduct tennis clinics at several American sites, and then won five matches here to capture the Volvo tourney.

Laver played cleverly against the quick, scrappy Solomon, never letting him get into gear the persistent ground game and fierce passing shots he had used to crush defending champion Vijay Amritraj in the semi-finals.

There were service breaks in nine of the last 11 games, but Laver played the critical points exceptionally well and kept Solomon off balance with a variety of high-bouncing topspin shots, good approaches, and drop shots.

For Laver, there was the dual satisfaction of winning and seeing the tournament he initiated five years ago as a four-man exhibition blossom into a showcase event.

Laver is the director of tennis for the Mount Washington Hotel, but he had not played well here since the weekend exhibition for hotel patrons turned into a full-fledged tournament. He lost in the quarter-finals in 1972.

This year he won before the largest crowds ever to watch tennis in northern New England. A total of 11,500 flocked to this tiny resort village in the White Mountains, 200 miles north of Boston, for the last two days of the tournament.

Connors, Chris trying for Clay Courts sweep

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Wimbledon champ Jimmy Connors, top-seeded here, attempts to join fiance Chris Evert in making it a clean sweep of the singles titles just as they did at Wimbledon when he meets Bjorn Borg of Sweden tonight for the National Clay Courts men's championship's second set.

Borg defeated Raul Ramirez of Mexico, 7-5, 6-7, 6-4, in a two-hour semifinals battle earlier Sunday.

Julie Heldman of Houston and Mrs. Chanfreau defeated sisters Chris and Jeanne Evert, 6-3, 6-1, to capture the women's doubles crown.

Hil Nastase's defeat Saturday in the quarterfinal round of the tourney will be appealed by the Independent Players Association.

Mrs. Chanfreau, who won this tournament in 1969, was able to force Miss Evert into a deuce score only twice.

The windup meant $6,000 in prize money for Miss Evert, $3,300 for Mrs. Chanfreau.

Connors ousted defending champ and fourth-seeded Manolo Orantes of Spain, 6-4, 6-3 Sunday. Orantes led the first set, 4-3, but Connors won the next three games to close out the set and was in complete control of the second set.

Borg defeated Raul Ramirez of Mexico, 7-5, 6-7, 6-4, in a two-hour semifinals battle earlier Sunday.

Julie Heldman of Houston and Mrs. Chanfreau defeated sisters Chris and Jeanne Evert, 6-3, 6-1, to capture the women's doubles crown.

Hil Nastase's defeat Saturday in the quarterfinal round of the tourney will be appealed by the Independent Players Association.

Mrs. Chanfreau, who won this tournament in 1969, was able to force Miss Evert into a deuce score only twice.

The windup meant $6,000 in prize money for Miss Evert, $3,300 for Mrs. Chanfreau.

Connors ousted defending

ERNE MASON'S LOS AL HANDICAP

Los Alamos Entries for Monday
Great Track Past Race, First $148.50,
$2 Exacta, First Race, $5 Exacta, etc.
5th and 9th Races

FIRST RACE — 250 YARDS, 3 YEARS
OLD & UP CLAIMING, PURSE $1,700

SECOND RACE — 250 YARDS, 3 YEARS
OLD AND GOLD (Herr)

Big Easy (Knight)

Apple Jack (Patterson)

Pot Apple Jay (Richards)

Rebel Born (Garza)

Vision Quest (Herr)

Just A Glance (Adair)

Big Glenda (Ward)

Big Glenda (Ward)

Little Glenda (Ward)

SECOND RACE — Wanda Witch rates and 100 yards, 3 years old

Satin & Light strictly the one to beat

2-1, Big Easy should get a share of the

longshot — Jet Spice

THIRD RACE — 250 YARDS, 2 YEARS OLD RAIDERS, PURSE $1,700, THE

FUN PARTY — 250 YARDS, 2 YEARS
OLD CLAIMING, PURSE $1,700

Divine (Cardoso)

Dopey's Tradition (Dreyer)

Another Look (Terrie)

Kayal (Aspin)

Let Account (Treasure)

Big Glenda (Ward)

King Host (Herr)

To My Valentine (Brooks)

Big Glenda (Ward)

THIRD RACE — Cool It Baby sets a good tact 10-1, but the top one should be to fire 2-1. Born A Winner had a sharp recent 10-8 workout for this 4-1

longshot — Jet Spice

FOURTH RACE — 250 YARDS, 2 YEARS
OLD & UP CLAIMING, PURSE $1,700, CLAIMING PRICE $2,000

SECOND RACE — 250 YARDS, 2 YEARS
OLD WORLD MEN'S &

WOMEN'S GOLF CLUB

Go Around (Herr)

Big Glenda (Ward)

Big Glenda (

DEAD ANCHOVIES — More than 35 tons of dead anchovies were scooped out of the Santa Cruz Yacht Harbor recently after the tiny fish poured into the harbor in such great numbers they cut off their own oxygen supply and suffocated. Dying by the thousands, they created a "rotten egg" odor over the city of Santa Cruz. David, left, and Charles Williams of San Jose pour out the dead fish.

Foreign countries generally oust their leaders quickly

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Political death usually comes swifter in most foreign countries than it does in the United States.

How some other nations changed their leaders:

FRANCE: On April 2, President Georges Pompidou died. In May, Frenchmen elected Valery Giscard d'Estaing to succeed him.

BRITAIN: The Conservative party's Edward Heath lost a general election Feb. 28 amid economic and labor woes and six days later Labor party leader Harold Wilson succeeded him as prime minister.

WEST GERMANY: Willy Brandt resigned as chancellor May 6 after his aide, Guenter Guillaume, admitted being an East German spy. Ten days later Helmut Schmidt became chancellor in a parliamentary vote.

SOVIET UNION: In October, 1964, the Politburo of the Communist party's central committee turned on its chairman, Nikita S. Khrushchev, tossed him out, and named Leonid I. Brezhnev the new general secretary. Khrushchev went and Brezhnev came in a two-hour Politburo meeting and the public was told of it only when it was all over.

PAIN: Ailing Generallissimo Francisco Franco turned over supreme power temporarily to Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon last month with a hospital bed stroke of a pen.

ISRAEL: Golda Meir quit as premier April 11. Ten days later her Labor party named Yitzhak Rabin as her successor.

PORUGAL: A military coup ousted the government of President Américo Tomás and Prime Minister Marcello Caetano April 25. Gen. António Sebastião Ribeiro de Spinola formed a new government May 15.

GREECE: The Greek military junta gave way to the first civilian government in Greece July 24—nine days after Greek army officers helped overthrow Archbishop Makarios as president of Cyprus and four days after the Turkish invasion of the island which followed.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You can do things in a manner today that will capture the attention of one you want to impress. Just use your imagination.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Two situations you're involved in appear unrelated. Actually, they fit together nicely.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Put out your best efforts if you're doing some type of service for another. There's a real surprise in store in return for work well done.

YOUR BIRTHDAY AUG. 13 You will undertake a new and unusual interest this year that will be offered by chance. It should turn out quite well.

FISHY STORY BRIGHTON, England (UPI) — Police inspector John Sole ordered Constable Philip Herring to investigate a theft Tuesday.

The missing property was a box of haddock.

Cost increases, and so does demand

World cry: 'We want sherry'

LONDON — The price of a butt, or cask, of sherry has tripled in the last 18 months.

Demand is worldwide. Costs of labor, transport, packaging and grapes are going up rapidly. Still, there seems enough to go around, and indeed a quota system has been imposed by the Spanish to regulate available supplies.

Many sherry shippers whose names are famous around the world have their own vineyards, but they also have to buy a lot of grapes from private growers. So they are planting more vines of their own.

The power behind the sherry bottle in Jerez de la Frontera, the town near Seville on which the trade centers, is the Consejo Regulador de la Denominación de Origen. Every case of sherry shipped from Jerez must bear its official stamp of approval and inspectors come and go in the bodegas, the big, airy ground floor warehouses in which the sherry matures, taking samples at will.

Sherry is a fortified wine made by the solera system, with the casks ranged on top of each other at four levels. As the matured wine is withdrawn from the bottom barrels, so the younger wine moves down at each level to replace it, thus ensuring the right age and blend in the final stage.

When a shipper sends his sherry abroad he must supply samples for the Consejo Regulador and these are tasted by three experts who receive them without knowing the source. If all three do not approve the samples, the sherry cannot be shipped. If one or two reject it, the shipment may be made but the shipper receives an official warning and any further rejection of his wine by only one taster enforces the ban.

The Consejo Regulador must approve land used for new vineyards, the specific grapes employed and the methods of cultivation. It fixes the grape prices after consultation and studying rising costs. There is also a fixed minimum export price for sherry but none for sherry sales in Spain itself.

The sherry workers have a privilege enjoyed by few others in the world.

Even in retirement they have a pension that is as much as their normal full salary and, if they die, their widows get the same. There is also assistance with housing.

Salaries are not specially high but security is built in for all except directors of the companies. One result is that there is seldom any serious labor trouble. As one leading shipper put it: "A labor stoppage during the grape harvest could ruin a whole year's wine."

With long days of sunshine, so that even the toughest worker wears a straw hat in the vineyards, there is only one cloud on the horizon and that is the ever increasing price.

Between 1955 and 1973 labor costs went up ten times and a 14 per cent increase was agreed for 1974. All this must be borne by the sherry in your glass, whether it be the pale yellow dry fino for aperitif or the sweet, dark oloroso for dessert.

But world demand is wide, and Harveys of Bristol, one of the top shippers, sells sherry in 118 countries throughout the world and claim that it's Bristol Cream is the number one sherry in North America. Recently West Germany and Germany and Belgium have joined the expanding market while Holland has turned from cheap sherry to better quality products.

Although Britain took over eight million cases of sherry from Spain in 1973, Holland came close with over three million and was followed by Denmark, West Germany, the United States and Ireland.

Sherry sales in France are curbed by import licenses.

To help ensure supplies, Harveys has combined with two other leading sherry firms, Garvey of Jerez and Barbadillo of Sanlúcar, to plant 2,000 acres of vineyards. Already 325 acres are planted with young vines and the work should be completed by spring of 1977. It takes five years to bring new vines into cultivation at 1,700 per acre the labor is immense. From every acre will come 10 to 12 casks of sherry.

Other sherry shippers are also planting and the total will eventually be 4,000 to 5,000 acres with an investment of 20,000 million pesetas in the next four years.

"Prices have gone up too fast and by too much in recent times," Don Diego Ferguson, managing director of Harvey (España) Ltd., said. "This big additional production in the future, plus present increases, will help to keep prices stable I believe. They should now level out. In fact the price of land for new vineyards is already tending to come down."

Don Diego's grandfather was born on a farm in Scotland and three generations have since lived in Spain and married Spanish girls. But he still holds a British passport. With his black, shiny hair and sun tan he looks very Spanish but is proud of his scottish ancestry.

Chocolate . . . Vanilla
TONY'S, JR.
1735 Indian Hill-Pomona

Fly Delta's Champagne Night Coach nonstop to Dallas/Ft.Worth, only $83.

CARNIVAL

by Dick Turner

"So George Washington slept here! In those days the mattresses were newer!"

THE QUIZ

worldscope

(10 points for each question answered correctly)

1 President Nixon admitted he attempted to blunt the investigation of the Watergate break-in that was being carried out by the FBI, then headed by Acting Director (CHOOSE ONE: L. Patrick Gray, Vernon Walters).

2 The Associated Milk Producers, Inc., the nation's largest dairy cooperative, pleaded (CHOOSE ONE: innocent, guilty) to charges of making illegal corporate donations to federal candidates in 1968, 1970, and 1972.

3 Ian Smith's party was returned to power in a landslide election victory in . . . a-South Africa b-Guinea c-Rhodesia

4 Ankara is the capital of (CHOOSE ONE: Turkey, Cyprus).

5 Government officials in . . . announced plans to nationalize most of the nation's ship-building, ship-repairing, and marine engineering industries.

a-Chile b-Great Britain c-Mexico

newsname

(10 points if you can identify this person in the news)

As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, I urged legislation to ease the U.S. trade embargo against Cuba. Who am I?

matchwords

(4 points for each correct match)

- | | |
|----------------|---------------------------------|
| 1....penitence | a-long, scolding speech |
| 2....penchant | b-cruel or unjust ruler |
| 3....trenchant | c-strong attraction or liking |
| 4....tirade | d-sorrow for one's wrong-doings |
| 5....tyrant | e-keen, to the point |

YOUR SCORE: 91 to 100 points — TOP SCORE! 81 to 90 points — Excellent. 71 to 80 points — Good. 61 to 70 points — Fair.

812-74 © VEC, Inc., Madison, Wisconsin

Progress-Bulletin

newspicture

(10 points if you answer this question correctly)

He is the Commissioner of the National Football League, which has been feeling the effects of a players' strike. Who is the NFL Commissioner?

sportlight

(2 points for each question answered correctly)

1 Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals hopes to break Maury Wills' record for the most (CHOOSE ONE: home runs, stolen bases) in a single season.

2 . . . won the Pleasant Valley Golf Classic. a-Lee Trevino b-Johnny Miller c-Victor Regalado

3 The IOC will consider rule changes concerning eligibility at an October meeting in Vienna. What do the letters I-O-C stand for?

4 (CHOOSE ONE: Sandy Koufax, Walter Johnson) is the only pitcher in major league history to strike out more batters than the St. Louis Cardinals' Bob Gibson, who is still on the active list.

5 Rick Wohlbauer of the U.S. set a world record in the (CHOOSE ONE: high jump, 1,000-meter run) at the Martin Luther King Games.

roundtable

Family discussion (no score)

Do you think the pet population is getting too large?

ANSWERS ON REVERSE PAGE

L. M. BoydDivorce and remarriage

Consider engaged couples. If both the man and woman were previously married, their courtship can be expected to last less than half as long as the courtship of never-married romantics. This, too, tends to confirm our Love and War man's report that it's the divorced citizen who most eagerly seeks matrimony.

THE IRISH SETTER now ranks No. 3 on that list of the nation's most popular dogs . . . IF YOU COLLECT match book covers, a philuminiest is what you are . . . OF COURSE, a flipped penny is more likely to come up heads than tails, sir . . . SEVEN out of every 10 men who desert their families do so in the first 10 years of marriage . . . THAT BIG TOWN with the highest murder rate now is Atlanta, Ga.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS.

Q. "Why does that lady saladmaker on the TV commercial say never cut lettuce, always tear it?"
A. Am told the cut edges tend to "rust," bu the torn edges don't.

Q. "WHAT'S a 'Bangor tiger'?"
A. That's what the Maine woodsmen used to call any lumberjack who was particularly tricky in a log-birling contest.

Q. "LOUIE, my boy, settle a little difugality here. Among single people over age 45, which make the more money on the average, the men or the women?"
A. The women.

IMPEACHMENT

Impeachment speeches aren't as long as once upon a time, fortunately. But their essential character hasn't changed any too much. Take that eight-hour talk by Great Britain's mighty orator Edmund Burke. In the trial before the House of Commons of Warren Hastings, Governor-General of India, Burke really poured it on. But when he asked the renowned Dr. Samuel Parr to comment on his effort, Parr described the address as "oppressed by metaphor." This comes to mind when legislators in Washington, D.C., poetize about the Saturday night massacre, the smoking pistol and the arrow to the heart. Bear in mind, it was right after Burke's fancy phrases at Commons acquitted Hastings overwhelmingly.

SOMETHING fierce, these most recent murder statistics. A youngster born this year is more likely to be killed eventually than was an American soldier in World War II.

THE BIRD LADY — Some say a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. Here Elsie Wright in New York not only has a bird or two in hand but has them on her head all around her. She feeds her feathered friends daily during her lunch hour break.

(UPI Telephoto)

 7 1/2% <small>Per Annum 2 1/2-10 Yrs. Certificate $1,000 Minimum</small> 7.79%
 6 3/4% <small>Per Annum 2 1/2-10 Yrs. Certificate $1,000 Minimum</small> 6.98%
 6 1/2% <small>Per Annum 2 1/2-10 Yrs. Certificate $1,000 Minimum</small> 6.72%
 5 3/4% <small>Per Annum 90 Day Certificate $1,000 Minimum</small> 5.92%
 PFF <small>YOUR FINANCIAL FRIEND... SINCE 1892</small>
Pomona First Federal SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION <small>We're open daily from 9 AM until 4 PM, Friday, until 5:30 PM</small>
<small>EIGHT POMONA VALLEY OFFICES TO SERVE YOU</small> Pomona Head Office — 399 North Garey Pomona Downtown — 250 South Garey Pomona Indian Hill — Indian Hill at Holt Claremont — 393 West Foothill San Dimas — 165 East Bonita Chino — 12801 Central Upland — East Foothill at Fifth Alta Loma — 9634 Baseline Road <small>AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER</small>

Save at our Flex-Account rate!

5 1/4%

Try on a five and a quarter percenter for size. PFF's Flex-Account is tailored to fit your needs—lets you save at a rate that's 16% higher than you receive at the 4 1/2% per annum passbook rate paid by most big banks. The Flex-Account doesn't cramp your style either. You're free to add or withdraw your money at any time and still earn at the same great rate! Try on Pomona First Federal's Flex-Account...16% fits better in this day of the disappearing dollar!

Pomona First Federal SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

We're open daily from 9 AM until 4 PM, Friday, until 5:30 PM

EIGHT POMONA VALLEY OFFICES TO SERVE YOU
 Pomona Head Office — 399 North Garey
 Pomona Downtown — 250 South Garey
 Pomona Indian Hill — Indian Hill at Holt
 Claremont — 393 West Foothill
 San Dimas — 165 East Bonita
 Chino — 12801 Central
 Upland — East Foothill at Fifth
 Alta Loma — 9634 Baseline Road

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

WORLDSCOPE: 1-L. Patrick Gray; 2-guilty; 3-c; 4-Turkey; 5-b
NEWSNAME: Senator J. William Fulbright
MATCHWORDS: 1-d; 2-c; 3-e; 4-a; 5-b
NEWSPICTURE: Pete Rozelle
SPORTLIGHT: 1-Stolen bases; 2-c; 3-International Olympic Committee;
4-Walter Johnson; 5-1,000-meter run

* A substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal.

PLUS valuable FREE
services!

Hotels thrive

SINGAPORE (UPI) — The Singapore tourist promotion board says the local hotel occupancy rate and tourist inflow to Singapore have increased this year despite oil crisis, inflation and higher air fares.

For the first five months this year room occupancy rate was .68.6 per cent compared with 65.6 per cent last year and tourist arrivals from January to May rose 13.15 per cent over last year.

Singapore now has about 71 tourist hotels with a total of more than 9,000 rooms.

Cotrell will be more than 50 when he is paroled, his career possibly shot.

There were other inmates with construction backgrounds and many had college educations. The Texas

Jailed business tycoon adds his voice

Officials told how prisons should be built - by inmates

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — In 1969 Robert C. Cotrell, a Navy veteran with a business flair and a personal flaw, made $84,000 a year and handled hundreds of thousands of dollars in his position as vice president of a Florida construction firm.

He had advanced from an architectural draftsman to office engineer, project manager, construction manager and company executive.

And he hoped he had advanced beyond a psychological problem which got him a 23-year sentence in a Virginia penitentiary for writing bad checks on his personal bank account.

"In 1957, after a number of personal problems, I ended up in Virginia," said Cotrell, a gray-haired man in white prison garb. "I married there and wrote a string of bad checks during our honeymoon. I was caught and sentenced to 23 years in prison for a total of $1,000 in bad checks."

Cotrell was paroled to Southern Methodist University in Dallas and participated in psychological therapy. His business acumen paid off financially and he accepted the Florida position.

In 1968 he began his own construction firm but two years later his investment soured and he lost $250,000. He returned to Texas, settled in San Antonio, and fought to control his problem.

In 1972, Cotrell wrote a $280 check which his account could not cover. "I offered to pay restitution, but after reviewing my record the judge sentenced me to six years," he said.

Cotrell will be more than 50 when he is paroled, his career possibly shot.

There were other inmates with construction backgrounds and many had college educations. The Texas

Ups and downs

The bladderwort, a plant that lives under water most of the year, rises to the surface when it flowers. At blossoming time, the bladders fill with air and the plant rises to the surface.

Department of Corrections offered a program in construction. But, according to Clark Moore and the University of Houston and the Construction Specifications Institute, the program was about 20 years behind the times.

"We build our own buildings and buy our own materials," said Phil Haas of the new construction division. "Cotrell's system has been used pretty extensively to control that."

"What kind of work he can get after he's paroled to the free world will pretty well depend on the attitude of the people outside. But he has the ability if he's allowed to use it."

Health News ...The Ladies Are Leading the Headache League

By Dr. Wes Helzer, D.C.

Recently the magazine section of a Sunday paper included an item stating that women are more frequent victims of headache than men.

Dr. Wes Helzer, D.C.

in the neck. And our clinical history shows that such displacements are the outstanding cause of headaches.

Incidentally, many women sleep on their abdomen and this, too, as surprising as it sounds, can contribute to frequent headaches. In this position the head must be turned to one side to breathe, changing the contour of the neck several hours a day and eventually causing a misalignment of vertebrae.

It goes without saying that the Doctor of Chiropractic is thought to be best equipped to deal with vertebrae displacement and its corresponding nerve irritation and muscle tension.

This is a competitive world. However, I'm sure headache is not something in which the ladies wish to excel. As a matter of fact, I would think they would try to reduce their advantage by immediate and effective treatment.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone 983-1711.)

(c) ARS 1974

Some of the Gas Company's best service people are all talk.

Meet the voice of the Gas Company. Her name's Nelia.

During a typical day she helps solve the problems of over a hundred customers. Right over the phone.

Need advice or information? Want to know about your bill, where to pay it? She's got the answers.

She's also got answers you wouldn't expect. Like what is the BTU rating of your gas, and why you're billed by thermal units. Or how to cut down your bill.

Because Nelia is specially trained. Trained to handle everything from the everyday to an emergency. She's a Gas Company expert you can call on to help solve problems or answer questions. After all, her job is to keep us in touch with each other.

Thanks to Nelia and people like her, you've got service as close as your phone.

Southern California Gas Company
We're investing in tomorrow.

Pinkston and Rogers vows are exchanged

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Pinkston are residing in Chino after a honeymoon in San Diego.

The couple exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the former Nancy Jane Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rogers of Chino. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Pinkston of Trenton, Mich.

Officiant for the double-ring rites was the Rev. George Wilson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of silk organza accented with bishop sleeves and a chapel train of venise lace. Venise lace formed the tiara which held the bride's fingertip veil.

She carried a cascade of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Candy Kepchak was matron of honor and Miss Joyce Murillo was bridesmaid.

Charles Tassin was best man while Richard Pinkston and Phillip Rogers ushered.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the rites.

(Martinez photo)

MRS. DONALD PINKSTON

Rhonda Land married in Nazarene service

Miss Rhonda Denise Land and Eddie Joe Carmean were married during afternoon, double-ring rites in the First Nazarene Church in Ontario.

The Rev. James White, minister of Pentecostal Holiness Church in Pomona, was officiant.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Land of Ontario was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess-styled gown of sparkle organza and carried a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Nancy Dennie was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Pamela Neely, Sandi Ophus and Jana Hart.

Michell Land was flower girl and Travis White was ring bearer.

The groom, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Carmean of Santa Paula, chose Willard

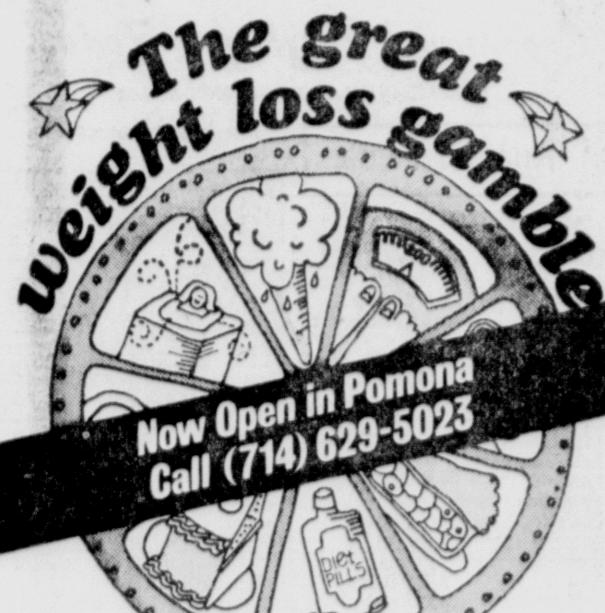

WRC slates gathering

The Vicksburg Woman's Relief Corps has scheduled a meeting at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

Mrs. Annie Bentley, president, will announce her aides or the coming year.

Members of the corps have been invited to attend the federation picnic planned in Corina.

Simeons Weight Clinics Speaks out on Simeons takes the gamble out of reducing with medically supervised weight loss

SIMEONS
Weight Clinics Foundation

Now Open in Pomona
Call (714) 629-5023

By following our program, you will begin losing weight the first week without any strenuous exercise. The Simeons Weight Clinics offer you a proven weight reduction program developed by the famous Dr. A. T. W. Simeons, totally supervised by Simeons Weight Clinic Foundation's staff of over 200 trained professionals, including over 17 Medical Doctors and 75 licensed nurses.

Lose weight now...quickly...safely...without strenuous exercise

NEW CLINICS NOW OPEN IN

Compton	637-7476	Lynwood	637-8171
Encino	990-5902	Panorama City	988-7565
Hollywood	464-7587	San Dimas	(714) 599-6757
Lakewood	531-8606	Santa Ana	(714) 556-4812
Lancaster	(805) 948-0841	South Los Angeles	750-2774
OTHER CONVENIENTLY LOCATED CLINICS		Van Nuys	988-7340

Asusa 569-3461
Beverly Hills 553-6011
Brentwood 820-5673
Burbank 845-5220
Canoga Park 887-1774
Corona (714) 735-0660
Downey 862-1907
Eagle Rock 254-1907
Granada Hills 368-5761
Long Beach 420-1491
Pasadena 792-3151
Gladstone 243-1174

call the clinic near you today weekdays 8 to 7 Saturdays 9 to 1

TODAY'S

Women

MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. HULSE

John Hulses observe golden anniversary

At a party in the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hulse of Pomona celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Approximately 40 relatives and friends gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry D. Hulse in Pomona to honor the senior Hulses.

The Hulses have one son and four grandchildren.

Installation party slated Saturday eve

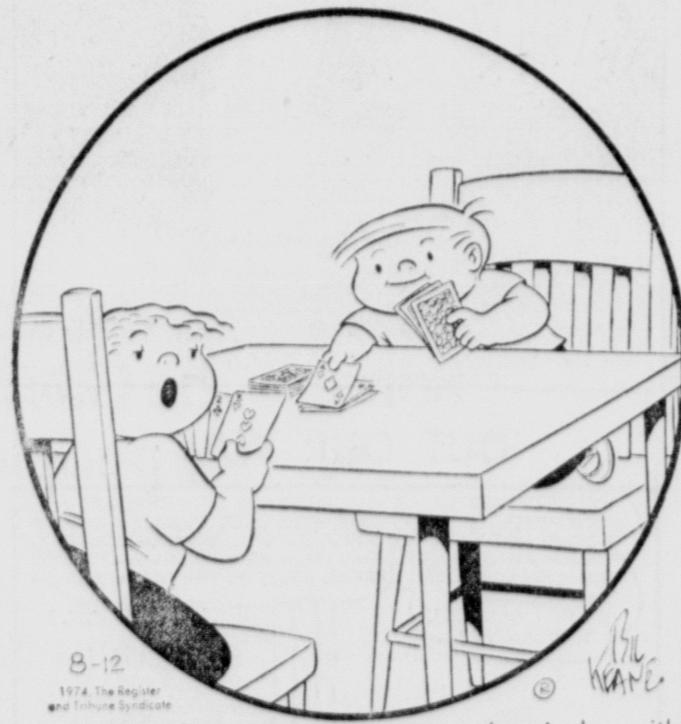

Members and friends of the Walnut Opti-Mrs. Club will gather Saturday evening for their annual installation party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, Walnut.

Taking office will be: Mmes. Jim Reeves, president; Ralph Peabody, vice president; Charles Watson, treasurer; George Brooks, recording secretary; Milton Kuntz, corresponding secretary; James Vandalingham, sergeant at arms; and Marge Feigles, Mrs. Floyd Thompson and Mrs. August Wagers, board members.

A social hour will begin at 6 p.m. and will be followed by a barbecue dinner.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Wagers, 595-1301.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

"Grandma, how come I never win when I play with Billy, but when I play with you I ALWAYS win?"

*REDECORATING Call hanson's interiors 622-2288 • 450 WEST HOLT AVE. • POMONA

Ask Dr. Brothers

Subject's not roses

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: I'm a homosexual and have been involved for four months in a relationship with a young man who is very demanding but very attractive to me. He has "come out" and has told everyone, including his boss and his family, that he is gay and he insists that I do the same. If I don't comply, he threatens to leave me. And I'm sure he will. There are several men ready and waiting for us to break up and he makes certain that I'm aware of this.

My parents are old and they would never accept this about me. I'm well aware of the Freudian theory about how all this goes back to early childhood. But in my case, it sure isn't clear. My father and mother don't fit any of the usual patterns and I'm very fond of them. Let me make it clear that I'm neither in love with my mother, nor do I hate her. My father and I have a close relationship and I'd hate to hurt him and make him feel guilty. I know this would be the result if I were honest about this. I'm really torn, because I don't want to be a coward and I certainly don't want to lose my lover. —P.B.

Dear P.B.: In any relationship each individual should be able to maintain the right to act on his own decisions as long as they're not injurious or damaging to the other person. You have your standards of behavior and you should not bend to this kind of emotional blackmail.

You are two separate individuals. What might be acceptable to his parents might be needlessly damaging to yours. Only you can determine what is best for you and your family. Honesty for the sake of honesty can be thoughtless, immature and even infantile. Aggression and cruelty can often be disguised as honesty.

Sometimes young people use honesty as an excuse to get back at their parents for all the disillusionment and anger they feel toward the world. This may be misdirected and is not always the fault of their parents.

Most parents make mistakes but by the time a person reaches maturity he should begin to view his parents as individuals capable of both good and evil. He should also recognize that his parents also had parents and that they, too, are the products of their environment.

The old theory that all homosexuality is the result of weak fathers and domineering mothers has recently been challenged and questioned by many authorities. Many homosexuals like yourself come from homes where the father is not detached, hostile or weak and where the mother is neither possessive, domineering nor seductive with her son. These rather simplistic notions about homosexuality may have resulted from prejudice, misunderstanding and insufficient research.

It seems to me that the problem you face has little to do with homosexuality. It is basically a problem of one person's losing his independence and becoming submissive and subservient to another. This is unhealthy whether it exists in a heterosexual marriage or in a homosexual relationship. When couples insist on becoming too close, when they become fused and behave as if they were one instead of two, one of the partners suffers. Too often, one of the partners is obliterated in favor of the other. In a mature, healthy relationship each person should be able to hang onto his own identity.

Fidelity should not be a re-

Visitors honored at party

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bechtold of Minneapolis, Minn., were guests of honor at a recent open house given by Mrs. Betty Bechtold in her home.

Mr. Bechtold is currently in the Child Development program at the Institute of Child Development at the University of Minnesota, where he is studying for his doctorate. Mrs. Bechtold is employed in the BankAmericard headquarters of a bank there.

HURRY-UP, HAIRDOS: CUT, BLOW 'N GO!

We show you how to care for them step by step. Our curl coaxing SCISSOR STYLES are all fuss-free and functional and are easy to do as just shampoo! Included are lamp cuts, finger tumble cuts, curling iron cuts, blower cuts, wash towel dry, brush 'n fluff cuts or simple wash and wear cuts. They are all SCISSOR STYLES, take-care-of yourself styles. Good for any age. Any hair. No teasing, no rollers, no pins. NO POLLUTING HAIR SPRAYS. ALSO NO SET PERMANENT WAVES. YOU MAY NEVER WANT TO SET YOUR HAIR AGAIN.

JOSEPH'S SCISSOR STYLING

105 S. FIRST AVE., ARCADIA

252 E. POMONA MALL

PHONE 213-447-1526

PHONE 622-8542

Casa Ramón

SPECIAL Light Lunches

COMBINATION PLATE - Choice of Enchilada, Chili Relleno or Ramon's Taco	$1.85
Chili Relleno or Ramon's Taco w/ Beans and Rice	$1.85
Albondigas Soup and Taco with Shredded Beef	$1.75
Served Tuesday thru Saturday 11:30 to 2:30 p.m.
Lunch while shopping at GOSH
OPEN Tues thru Sun
RESERVATIONS 626-2411
Indian Hill at Foothill Blvd., Claremont

DID YOU KNOW

POMONA HEALTH FOODS IS OFFERING 20% OFF ALL

VITAMINS MINERALS PROTEINS GINSENG

OFFER EXPIRES SAT., AUG. 17, 1974

POMONA HEALTH FOODS

1625. INDIAN HILL BLVD.

(2 BLK. SOUTH OF S.B. FREEWAY)

9:30 A.M. to 6:30 P.M. 626-6277

TAPESTRY SPREADS $4.98

72" x 108"

Girls Pants $3.49

Girls Tops $2.98

Fall outfit

Casual style is mixed with formal fabrics in a new fall outfit from Gil Aimbez. He mates satin gaucho pants with a mohair topper with its own scarf.

From

MEN'S SHORT SLEEVE SHIRTS $4.98

BOYS' T-SHIRTS 50¢

RENT A BRAND NEW WURLITZER PIANO $15.00 month plus

DUGAN'S MUSIC CO.

5045 SOUTH PLAZA LANE MONTCLAIR PLAZA 621-2965 • 983-3601

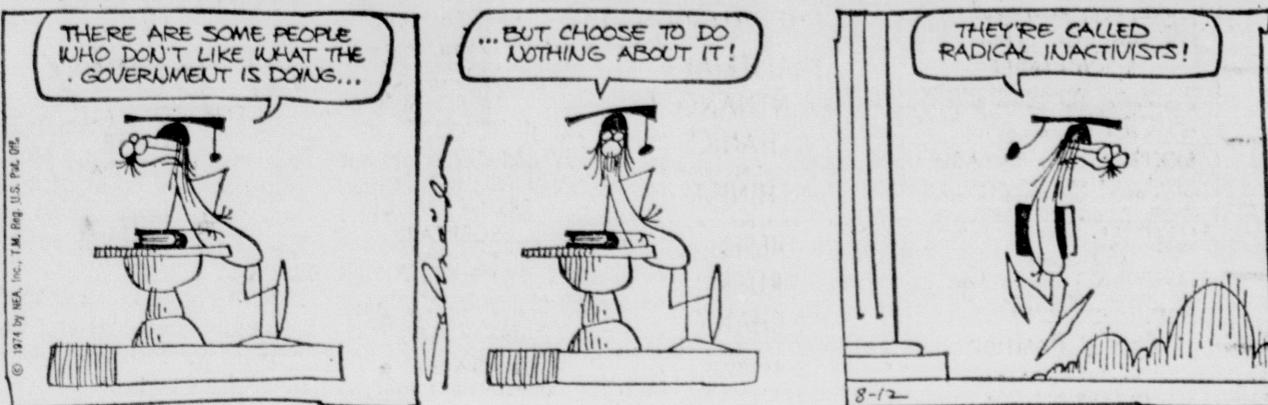

THE CLOTHING STORE

4747 Holt Blvd., Montclair 624-1212

Open Tues. thru Sat. 10 A.M. to 7 P.M.

A few items marked as select irregulars

EEK AND MEEK

BORN LOSER

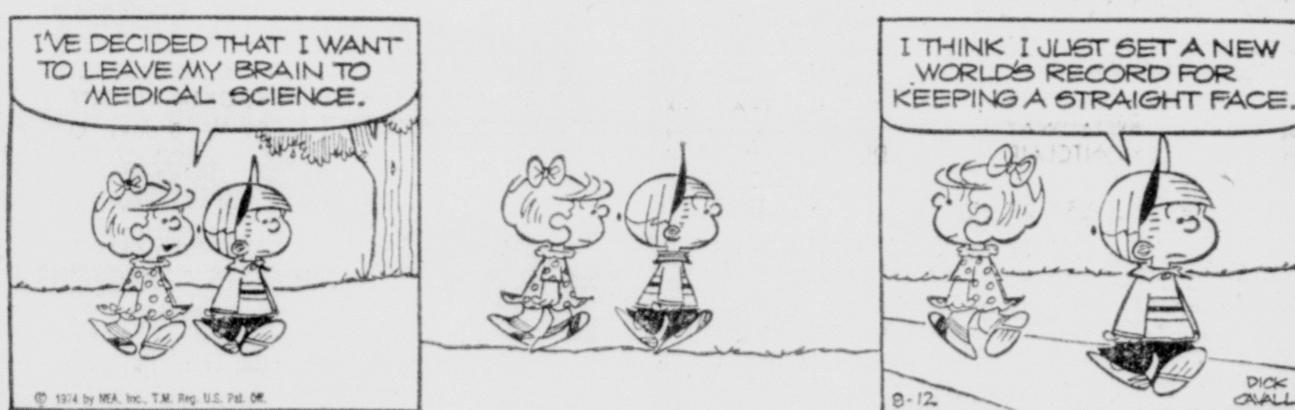

CAPTAIN EASY

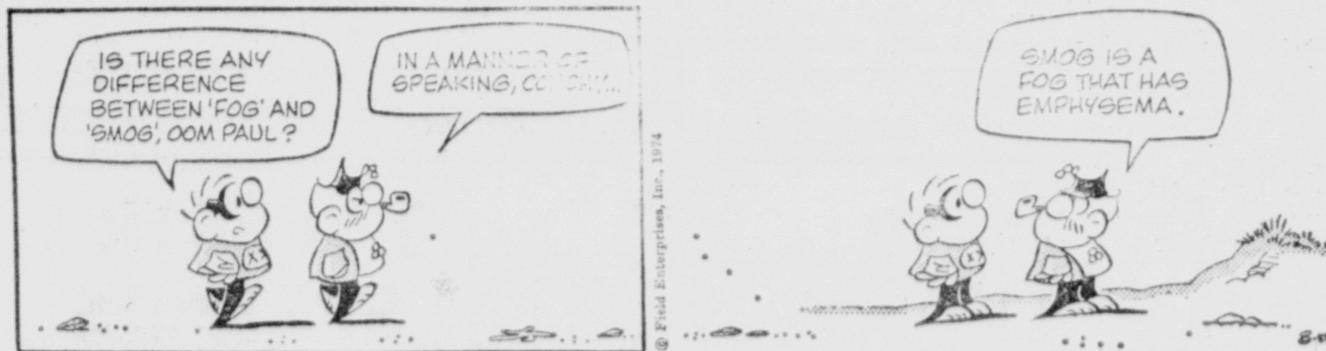

ALLEY OOP

WINTHROP

CONCHY

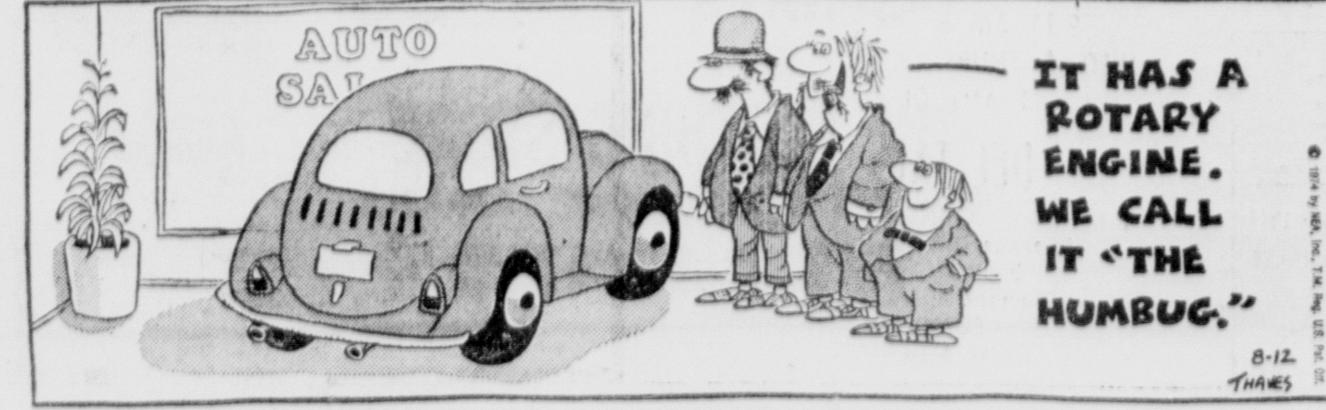

PRISCILLA'S POP

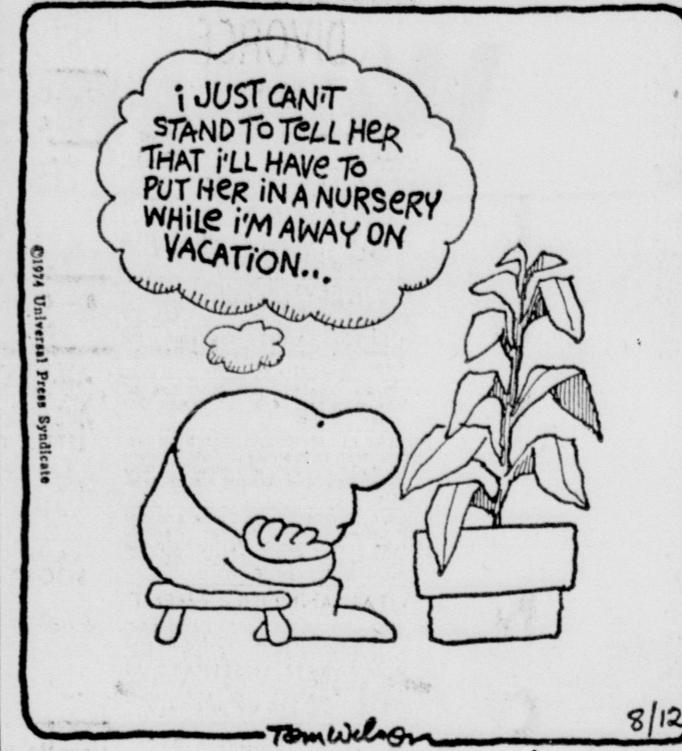

BUGS BUNNY

FRANK AND ERNEST

ZIGGY

DICK TRACY

NANCY

WEE PALS

SHORT RIBS

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

OUT OUR WAY

Crossword Puzzle for Today

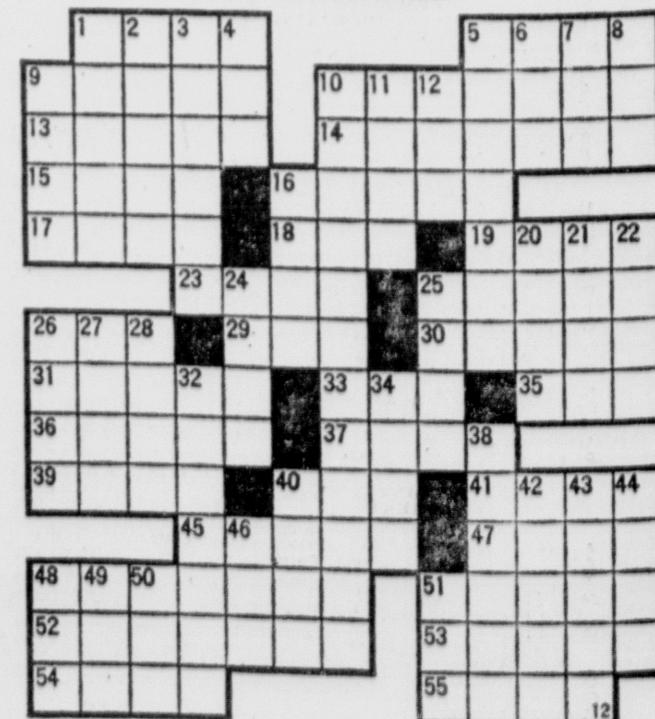

RELEASE IN P.M. PAPERS OF MON. AUG. 12

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Number Two

ACROSS	1 Twofold	41 Egyptian goddess
	5 Group of two	45 Piece of rock
	9 Sierra	47 Ibsen heroine
	10 Resistance to attack	48 Sediment
	13 Arab potentates	51 Biblical tower site
	14 Run	52 Vitreous compounds
	15 Not any	53 Verbal contraction
	16 Destroys	57 Individuals
	17 Individuals	58 Learner's start
	18 Learner's start	59 Anglo-Saxon serif
	19 Land formation	55 Biblical city
	23 Towering
	25 American fur merchant
	26 Evil
	29 Golf mound
	30 Rigorous
	31 Bring together
	33 Astern
	35 Footlike part
	36 Fills compactly
	37 Flippant
	39 Leander's beloved
	40 Spelling event
DOWN	1 Friend of Pythias	42 Fashion designer
	2 City in Italy	43 Couple
	3 Take into consideration	34 Run away from two
	4 Masculine nickname	38 Composed of
	5 Continue firmly	40 Seebe
	6 Miscellaneous	42 Temperate
	7 Devotee	43 Success
	8 Sheepfold (Scot.)	44 Seasoning
	25 Italian city	46 Mao --tung (var.)
	26 Shrub	48 English river
	27 Sheep	49 Printing measures
	28 Italian city	50 Cooking utensil
	29 Italian city	51 Baseball item

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

PROGRESS-BULLETIN

WANT AD SUPERMARKET

BARGAIN BOX

One item costing $100 or less may be placed in a 2 line ad for 3 consecutive days for $1. Ads must be paid in advance, no copy changes, no refund for cancellation. Private parties only—no business ventures.

FOR INFORMATION CALL

PROGRESS BULLETIN
Classified Dept. 622-1201

UARGE, 1000 sq. ft., older. Carpet, FREE pup, Shepard Collie Mix. Females. Call 622-2840.
1970 YAMAHA, 250,
needs fixes. $100. 622-4487.
FREE in St. Bernard, Morris bl/bird and big kids. 954-1925.
EARLY AMERICAN SOFA,
$35. 622-4857.
DAR, brown leather recliner. $25.
Call 622-4887.
EARLY AMERICAN CHAIR,
$25. Please call 622-4887.
TAILGATE, Chevy Luv pickup.
315. 624-6855.
6 FOOT CAMPER,
$85. 624-6855.
396 BLOCK—REBUILDABLE
$40. 624-6855.
COLOR TV
Just serviced. 375. 629-3864.
BASE C.B., 570 Saturday and Sunday. 559-3324.
61 BONNEVILLE FOR PARTS,
$50. 623-8027; call After Five.
DINETTE Set and 4 Swivel Chairs.
Like New $45. 393-5565.
FARBERWARE—Electric
Broiler. Like new. $25. 982-4403.
ADDING Machine, Manual. Works
Perfect. $18. 982-4403.

FREE female puppies to good home.
Please call 597-3871.

the BARGAIN BOX
P.O. Box 2708, Pomona, Calif. 91766
BARGAIN BOX 3 DAYS 2 LINES $1 Dollar
PAYMENT WITH ORDER

NAME

STREET CITY

PHONE

- ONE ITEM ONLY, INCLUDE PRICE and PHONE NUMBER.
- PRICE MUST NOT EXCEED $100
- No ABBREVIATIONS — NO COPY CHANGES
- AD MAY BE EDITED TO CONFORM TO RULES
- NO REFUNDS FOR EARLY CANCELLATION
- PRIVATE PARTIES ONLY — NO BUSINESS VENTURES
- NO PETS — UNLESS FREE
- AD WILL APPEAR IN THE NEXT 3 EDITIONS OF PROGRESS-BULLETIN AFTER IT IS RECEIVED.

Print Your Ad Here: 1 Space per Letter.
Allow 1 Blank Space between Each Word.

10—Help Wanted

NURSES AIDS
Experienced only. Apply in person.
8203 Fremont Ave., Montclair.

NEEDED NOW

Straight-hard-working, reliable workers, preferably single. Apply in person.
C. Inc., 569 E. Commercial St., Po-mons.

Personnel Interviewer
Part of exciting, action charged personnel field. Interview, test and counsel prospective employees. Responding firm seeks person with business experience to join our firm. Minimum 2 years experience. Call 623-4466 for appointment.

ART TIME legal secretary for 1 man law office in Pomona. can work part time. Call 623-4466 or 623-5555 Monday, 8-12-4.

APER Boys wanted in Pomona,
Chino, Claremont, San Dimas and La Verne. $17.50-$18.00 after Lunch for 4 hours. Call 623-4466

PIZZA COOK★
No exp. necessary, must be 21, clean and neat appearance like to work with people. Fringe benefits.
Apply in person Strand Hot Pizza
Palace 1232 Central, Chino.

PIZZA BAKER
Full time only. Must have neat appearance. Work in a clean, bright place. Like to work with public.
Day or night incl. weekend.
Good pay, fringe benefits, and good working conditions. Call 623-4466 for appointment.

BARTENDER
Apply Pizza Palace, 189 E. Foothill Blvd., Upland.

PERSONNEL TRAINEE
Will be trained in all phases of personnel service in a temporary help office.

To qualify you must have experience in personnel, preferably either supervisory or sales. In addition you must be a self-starter with self-confidence and ability to work long hours. Good salary, bonuses and opportunity for advancement. Call 623-4466 for appointment.

REAL ESTATE SALEMEN
Come to where the "Action is".
Tremendous volume of activity, we need help and want to learn. Check this benefit by offering.

LEWIS REALTY
1. Heavy daily advertising
2. Professional training
3. Incentive daily, weekly and monthly ins.

MAT (1) I. Want independent thinkers that enjoy people and have executive ability. I want to interview you for a personal interview. Ask for Mr.
Francisco.

983-9701

REAL ESTATE SALESPERSON
With license for part-time.
Call 624-4245.

MANAGERS NEEDED

We need men or women who can supervise young people 12-16 yrs. Above average income, rapid advancement and a future with a large Int. Corp. are yours if you are ambitious and resourceful. A large station wagon or van fully insured a must. No experience needed, we will train.

CALL

MR. BORDGES

629-5776

JUST DIAL

JUST DIAL

622-1201

Classified Ad Information

SERVICE & REPAIRS

A—Business Directory

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1—Special Notices

2—Personals

3—Rummage-Garage

4—Tray Sale

5—Lost!

6—Found

7—Grooming-Tailoring

8—Child Care & Nurseries

Schools (Lic.)

9—Rest Homes and

Sanatoriums (Lic.)

EMPLOYMENT

10—Help Wanted

11—Situation Wanted Male

12—Situation Wanted Female

13—Baby-Sitting Wanted

INSTRUCTIONS

14—Educational

15—Music-Dancing-Dramatics

MISCELLANEOUS

16—Good Things To Eat

17—Second-Hand Pictures

18—Unfinished Houses

19—Furnished Apartments

20—Unfurnished Apartments

21—Apartment

22—Rooms To Share

23—Pet Board

24—Sleeping Room Rent

25—Hotels-Motels

26—Mountain, Beach, Desert

Properties Rent

27—Wanted To Rent

28—Wanted To Rent

SPORT EQUIPMENT

29—Boats-Motors-Accessories

Sales-Service

RECREATIONAL VEHICLES

30—Travel Trailers

31—Camper Utility

32—Atv's

33—Bikes

34—Dunes Buggies

35—Motorcycles

36—Aircraft-Rent-Sales

MOBILE HOMES

37—Space & Parks

38—Mobile Homes

Sales-Service-Supplies

AUTOMOTIVE

39—Accessories-Tires-Parts

40—Auto Repair-Service

41—Cars-Wrecked

42—Trucks For Sale

43—Car, Truck Lease-Rent

44—Imported, Sport

45—Antiques Autos

46—Oldsmobile Vehicles

47—Auto For Sale

PETS & LIVESTOCK

48—Tropical Fish & Supplies

49—Small Animal-Birds

50—Swine

51—Livestock-Sale

52—Pigs-Poultry-Livestock

& Supplies Wanted

REAL ESTATE SALES

53—For Sale

54—For Rent

55—For Lease

56—For Trade-Lease

57—Buildings To Move

58—Real Estate Exchanges

59—Real Estate Wanted

60—Business Opportunities

61—Business Wanted

CLASSIFIED RATES

Effective April 1, 1973

Non Commercial

PRIVATE PARTY

5 averages words per line. Minimum of 3 lines. Minimum charge
$2.50. Cash with copy on all work wanted ads.

1 Time 67c

2 Times 58c

3 Times 53c

4 Times 48c

5 Times 43c

6 Times 38c

7 Times 33c

8 Times 28c

9 Times 23c

10 Times 18c

11 Times 13c

12 Times 8c

13 Times 4c

14 Times 2c

15 Times 1c

CARD OF THANKS

Memorials, Obituaries, Funeral

Notices, etc per line. Five line minimum.

WAITRESS

SALES person to sell and manage restaurant. Must be able to work long hours. Must be reliable. $10.00 per hour. Call 622-4466.

SECRETARY

Must have shorthand, typing and medical terminology skills.

Doctors Hospital of Montclair
Mon., Tues. 9 AM to 12 noon at (714) 683-2523

Ask for Mrs. Hardy.

Calls from 1 PM to 4 PM, except Mon.
evening 7 PM to 9 PM (714) 682-7942

SECRETARY

21—Misc. for Sale

Continued from Page 22

CENTRAL HEAT FURNACE
$9,000.00
100,000 BTU's and Nite, 5 yrs old. $425-$554.WALMART P-38, 9mm automatic, $130.
626-3078.25¢ trimmer, lawn mower, front thrower, Kresler engine, fine
new. $300 firm. 629-2185.MISC household items, Avon bottles,
'63 Chevy van, 628-5446, 4595 Philadelphia, Chino.TEX BARRETT'S TV
499. Holt. Mtc.

624-3975.

USED TV'S, COLOR-B&W
SOME LIKE NEW
RENT WITH OPTIONBILL'S TV—SINCE 1956
183 W. Holt, Pomona
Open Fr. 622-3331TV'S FOR SALE $25, $35, $50
Excellent condition
1227 W. Holt, Pomona, 622-1 NEED TV'S WORKING OR NOT.
Also colors and stereos.
627-6740.RENT 1974 COLOR TV
Free delivery and service
Phone 595-9488

23—Musical Instruments

Steinway Grand, like new... $4500

Bachstein Grand... $3895

Mason & Hamlin... $3895

(Completely rebuilt)

All models of New Yamaha and
KnightRALPH PIERCE MUSIC
822 N. GAREY, POMONA
623-5525

OPEN SUNDAYS

BALDWIN PIANOS-ORGANS
Have Fun!Learn to play the organ
Piano or keyboard
Including a private lesson each week. We guarantee results.

BAUER-BALDWIN

4755 Holt Blvd., McRae
624-7171

CHICKERING Brother piano, Dark

Walnut, real wood condition.

WANTED HIGH quality
new or used piano set.

$600-$1200

RENT A NEW Wurlitzer spinet piano
$15.00 mo. Apply, return to purchase.

DUGAN'S MUSIC CO.

565 South Plaza Lane

Montclair Plaza

621-963

PIANOS Exclusively
• Rental and Sales •

(714) 624-5314

RENT A SMALL PIANO

NEW ELECTRONIC ORGANS

(714) 823-5528 dir

24—Household Goods

Sale

WHATEVER YOU WANT

THE MISSION SWAP MEET.

42" ROUND MARBLE TOPPED

TABLE AND 4 CHAIRS. 160.

621-3364

DRESSER, 2 night stand,

mirror, 2 cond. 35x35.

515-9944

2 XLNT bedroom sets, Danish modern 6d in coffee table, 8 foot green

couch, 2 chairs, mcm, all

table. 622-0564

RCA 14" Color TV, Sony tape recorder, RC Clock, Radio, Del Rey headrest car seat, portable dishwasher, twin bed group, twin bed linen, upholstered chair, 2 small tables, 2 chairs, China, 192 pieces, service for 8, glassware, cooking utensils, small 11" round mirror, 2 cond. 35x35. McKinley, Sale effective Aug. 12, 13-15, 10:00 am to 7:00 pm.

25—Furnishings Antique

FURNITURE stripping, wood or metal, 1st Ave., Covina, Cal. (213) 956-5010

ANTIQUE oak dining room table, 4 matching chairs, beautiful condition. $200. 956-6024

27—Appliances-Sale

WASHING MACHINE

Call 984-7860.

28—Miscellaneous Want.

CASH for old dolls, cut glass jewelry, old furniture, anything over 30 years old. 599-2723

Wanted: Used Furniture

and Appliances.

Cash money paid.

623-7241

HIGHEST PAID CASH

for used pianos and organs

984-1482

TATES—Ten Dollars paid now for used furn-appl. 623-8347 or 624-

3008.

29—Swaps

THE MISSION SWAP MEET

BIGGER & BETTER

THAN EVER!

TUESDAY, JULY 31ST

WEDNESDAY THRU SUNDAY

THURS. & FRI. BUYERS FREE

MISSION DRIVE IN

30—Machinery & Tools

1968 INTERNATIONAL 500 Crawler Loader, 4 in 1 bucket and ripper. 14' 6" wide, 10' 6" tall, 10' 6" rear lifter, 23'-174 after 5 pm.

SKIP Loader for sale, 1973 Simplicity, 20 HP, Model 4041, 3 point Gannon Axle, Steel tilt tri 2400 firm. 623-7969

NO OTHER ADVERTISING MEDIA CAN OFFER SO MUCH INFORMATION AS THE PROGRESS-BULLETIN.

33—Pets-Poultry-Rabbits & SuppliesGENERAL*GOVERNMENT*REPOSSESSION SALEVA SELLS ITS PROPERTIES
WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION

2, 3 and 4 Bedrooms

Very Low Interest

ANYONE CAN BUY

SE HABLA ESPANOL

CALL LEWIS REALTY

626-8597

ALTA LOMAJUST NEW

AFGHAN puppy, black and tan, $55.

GERMAN shorthair pointer, excellent stock.

Quality Doberman pups

For sale. Call (714) 424-4373.

IRISH Setter male, 6 months, short and license, $75. Call after 6 pm.

GERMAN Shorthair Pointers, well

pedigree, $285-$362.

AKC German shorthaired pointer, $50, 3 male, 2 female, 987-7515.

BEAUTIFUL AKC Samoyed Pups,

good health, $200. 6 wks. 623-3025 night.

CHIHUAHUA puppies for sale,

$25. 623-525.

FREE BEAUTIFUL KITTENS

Call 593-3351

Lhasa Apso puppies

$100 up. 593-4345

RABBITS, selling out completely, all

100% purebred, 100% healthy, young mallard ducks. 622-0983

GREAT DANE, needs loving home, good watch dog, loves children, wants quick sale. Only $32,500.

1 NEED TV'S WORKING OR NOT.

Also colors and stereos.

627-6740.

RENT 1974 COLOR TV

Free delivery and service

Phone 595-9488

23—Musical Instruments

Steinway Grand, like new... $4500

Bachstein Grand... $3895

Mason & Hamlin... $3895

(Completely rebuilt)

All models of New Yamaha and

Knight

RALPH PIERCE MUSIC
822 N. GAREY, POMONA
623-5525

OPEN SUNDAYS

BALDWIN PIANOS-ORGANS
Have Fun!

Learn to play the organ

Piano or keyboard

Including a private lesson each week. We guarantee results.

BAUER-BALDWIN

4755 Holt Blvd., McRae

624-7171

CHICKERING Brother piano, Dark

Walnut, real wood condition.

WANTED HIGH quality
new or used piano set.

$600-$1200

RENT A NEW Wurlitzer spinet piano

$15.00 mo. Apply, return to purchase.

DUGAN'S MUSIC CO.

565 South Plaza Lane

Montclair Plaza

621-963

PIANOS Exclusively
• Rental and Sales •

(714) 624-5314

RENT A SMALL PIANO

NEW ELECTRONIC ORGANS

(714) 823-5528 dir

24—Household Goods

Sale

WHATEVER YOU WANT

THE MISSION SWAP MEET.

42" ROUND MARBLE TOPPED

TABLE AND 4 CHAIRS. 160.

621-3364

DRESSER, 2 night stand,

mirror, 2 cond. 35x35.

515-9944

2 XLNT bedroom sets, Danish modern 6d in coffee table, 8 foot green

couch, 2 chairs, mcm, all

table. 622-0564

RCA 14" Color TV, Sony tape recorder, RC Clock, Radio, Del Rey headrest car seat, portable dishwasher, twin bed group, twin bed linen, upholstered chair, 2 small tables, 2 chairs, China, 192 pieces, service for 8, glassware, cooking utensils, small 11" round mirror, 2 cond. 35x35. McKinley, Sale effective Aug. 12, 13-15, 10:00 am to 7:00 pm.

25—Furnishings Antiques

FURNITURE stripping, wood or metal, 1st Ave., Covina, Cal. (213) 956-5010

ANTIQUE oak dining room table, 4 matching chairs, beautiful condition. $200. 956-6024

27—Appliances-Sale

WASHING MACHINE

Call 984-7860.

28—Miscellaneous Want.

CASH for old dolls, cut glass jewelry, old furniture, anything over 30 years old. 599-2723

Wanted: Used Furniture

and Appliances.

Cash money paid.

623-7241

THE MISSION SWAP MEET

BIGGER & BETTER

